

The end of the day
You had nothing to say
The things that you tried
Still so much in your way
You journey back home
Lonely tonight
And you're wanting away

The noise of the crowd
On the street is so loud
A rising storm
In the rain you are bowed
Closing the door
Lonely tonight
And you're wanting away

When your dreams are falling apart
Remember what is in your heart
When it feels time for a new start
Just listen to what is in your heart

Your sadness betrays
What you were yesterday
The search for a meaning
That won't go away
Climbing the stairs
Alone tonight
And you want it that way

Continued...

You think of the past
How the time has gone fast
What of the future
Will you find love at last?
Turn out the light
Alone tonight
And you want it that way

When your dreams are falling apart
Remember what is in your heart
When it feels time for a new start
Just listen to what is in your heart

When your dreams are falling apart
Remember what is in your heart
When it feels time for a new start
Just listen to what is in your heart

When your dreams are falling apart
Remember what is in your heart
When it feels time for a new start
Just listen to what is in your heart

