Day trip to Westonbury Mill Water Gardens Tuesday 2nd September 2025

On Tuesday 02/09/25 an executive coach with toilet has been booked for our second day trip of the year to “Westonbury Mill Water Gardens” in Herefordshire. These gardens were recently shown on TV, and a member of the society remarked on how interesting they looked. The gardens are known for their unique follies which include a stone water tower which has a glass dome of 5,000 wine bottles and the giant water powered cuckoo clock, believed to be the largest in the world.

The Watermill cafe offers delicious homemade food including lunches; cream teas and cakes made with local produce. A good selection of plants suited to both moist and drier soils are available.

After our visit to Westonbury Mill Gardens we will be making our way to 3 Shires Garden Centre, Newent, before making our way home to Cheltenham.

Cost is £30.
