Brenda Powell is most known for her work as a trainer, coach, nutritionist and yoga teacher at Zenergy in Sun Valley, Idaho, a place she has happily called home for nearly twenty years. Brenda biked across Europe at the tender age of 22 with barely more than a tent and an adventurous friend. She's walked the legendary 500-mile Camino de Santiago and the ancient Via Francigena, immersing herself in the rhythm of pilgrimage and the power of solitude. Throughout her illustrious career in fitness and wellness she has always shown a keen interest in travel and has curated and guided trips for clients to many of the world's most awe-inspiring places. This passion has led her to launch her own enterprise, BrendaTravels.com, where she takes her passion for creating unique, customized experiences into transformational journeys.

Mario Boschi is a certified Elite Level II Pickleball Instructor and the Head Pickleball Pro at Club Greenwood in Colorado, teaching clinics across Colorado, Florida, Mexico and Canada. He co-owns the Denver Iconics within the Champions Series Pickleball league (CSP), a 50+ Senior pro-level, where Mario also competes as a senior pro player. Before transitioning fully into coaching, Mario managed a Honda Powerhouse dealership for 23 years, earning the Honda Council of Excellence Award for his leadership and excellence. In 2019, Mario and his wife founded The Boschi Group, a career sport coaching and consulting firm. Expanding his athletic pursuits, Mario earned his Elite Level II Pickleball Instructor Certification (IPTPA) in 2020. A lifelong athlete, Mario brings years of competitive sports experience and a passion for fitness to his coaching and instruction and we are privileged to have Mario joining us in Santa Fe to unlock your next level in Pickleball.
