DUSTY BAKER MAKES DONATION TO HOUSTON FOOD BANK

Astros skipper has partnered with OnMilk; Donation will help 30,000 young Houstonians

HOUSTON, TX - Houston Astros manager Dusty Baker has partnered with OnMilk to make a sizable donation to the Houston Food Bank today.

Baker's donation will help close to 30,000 young people in Houston.

"Proper nutrition is essential in building strong bodies and minds," Baker stated. "I felt it was very important to provide this contribution of OnMilk to the Houston Food Bank to support development of local youth. In times of need, it takes each of us doing our part to make a difference in the community."

OnMilk provides liquid and powder milk products that require no refrigeration and are a good source of calcium and protein. The powdered milk option is a shelf-stable, single serving packet of fortified, non-fat dry milk that requires water (milk may also be used) and has 18 months of shelf life.

"OnMilk is a Perfect fit for Disaster Relief, local Meal Programs and Youth Sport tournaments," said OnMilk CEO Matt Krause. "We encourage you to join Dusty and OnMilk in support of the Houston Food Bank."
