IHART

Was Theresa Sidebotham, who runs IHART, your former general counsel?

Theresa Sidebotham has never been the General Counsel, or in-house counsel, for New Tribes Mission or Ethnos360. In 2014, after she provided some limited assistance with the IHART process, we asked her to take over the IHART Coordinator role because of her expertise in this area. She had the necessary background to make needed improvements to the IHART process and see the project through. Ms. Sidebotham has her own law firm, Telios Law, in Colorado Springs, Colorado and works with numerous ministries, with a strong focus on both child abuse and employment investigations.
