Claire Storey

Executive GM, People & Culture at Melbourne Airport

Here's what Claire Storey (GAICD), Executive GM, People & Culture at Melbourne Airport, had to say about her experience as a member of Chief HR Australia:

"My membership is already proving its value by giving me access to a trusted network I can turn to for advice. Through this network, I've been able to accelerate my projects, leveraging vendor recommendations and insights from other members. The relationships I'm building are truly invaluable."

At Chief HR Australia, we know the value of a strong, trusted community for HR leaders. Whether it's tapping into expert advice, sharing best practices, or simply connecting with like-minded peers, our members thrive on the collective power of the network.

If you're looking to elevate your impact and access a community of forward-thinking CHROs, it's time to consider membership with Chief HR Australia.
