Snezana Bakalovski

Chief People Officer at CyberCX

Snezana Bakalovski is a seasoned HR executive with a strong track record of driving strategic people initiatives across complex environments. Currently Chief People Officer at CyberCX, Snezana has been recognised for her leadership and impact, including a nomination for HRD of the Year 2025, with her team also nominated for three major awards this year. Her career reflects a deep commitment to building inclusive, high-performing cultures and enabling business transformation through people.

CyberCX is the leading independent provider of cyber security services in the trans-Tasman region, with global offices in the United Kingdom and United States. With a workforce of over 1,400 professionals, CyberCX is a trusted partner to private and public organisations helping defend and protect them in an increasingly complex and challenging threat environment.

Snezana joined Chief HR to connect with a trusted network of peers and thought leaders. "Half the battle is not knowing what's worked for others," she says. "Chief HR gives you access to recommendations, best practices, and generous sharing of insights." She values the give-and-take nature of the community, where members contribute research, frameworks, and candid reflections. "I hired one of my business partners through a network referral, it's hard to build those connections when you're busy and operating in isolation."

For Snezana, Chief HR is a space to challenge thinking, access thought leadership, and engage with a wealth of experience from other CPOs. "It's safe to share here. It can be lonely at the top as a busy Executive and this network helps you lift your gaze and see what's possible."
