Tis the Season For a Mid-Year Money Checklist

Contributed by TRUE

*Community Credit Union and their partner
GreenPath Financial Wellness*

As summer hits its stride, the idea of financially preparing for the holidays might feel like overkill. Consider this: money is the most cited source of stress during the holidays, with 58% of US adults worrying about overspending or not having enough money.

August is an ideal month to assess your financial picture and make mid-year adjustments that will help you cruise into the holiday months with fewer concerns. To make planning easier, here is a seven-item checklist you can use as your guide:

1. Review Your Budget

With a customizable budgeting worksheet or free app, identify areas where you may be overspending and eliminate costs or comparison shop if possible. Budgeting isn't about guilt; rather, it is a way to ensure you're saving a little each month – ideally 10% of your income. Less still counts.

2. Automate Savings

Consider the “set it and forget it” approach to allocating savings so that when peak holiday spending season comes around, you've avoided (or at least minimized) high-interest credit card balances that can put a damper on the season and coming year. Look into opening a holiday-specific savings account at your financial institution and start saving now.

3. Strategize Debt Repayment

Review the balances and interest rates of your credit cards, loans, and other debts. Tackle high-interest payments first (so you're able to put more toward principal in the long run). Explore a debt management program that can help you eliminate debt faster.

4. Check Your Credit Report

Request a free copy of your credit report from AnnualCreditReport.com. Review the report for any inaccuracies or signs of identity theft. Dispute any errors you find, which could be a contributing factor to a lower score.

5. Revisit Investments

If you have any investment accounts, assess whether your allocations still align with your long-term goals and risk tolerance. Market conditions often change, and your investment strategy should account for these fluctuations.

6. Maximize Retirement Contributions

If you have a retirement account, check your contributions and see if you have any room in your budget to increase them. This especially applies if your employer offers matching contributions, as it's essentially free money. The sooner you invest, the more time your money has to grow.

7. Review Insurance Policies

Ensure that your health, auto, home, and life insurance policies still meet your needs. Life changes such as marriage, the birth of a child, or significant purchases might necessitate adjustments to your coverage or comparison shopping for more favorable rates.

The Music Man Comes to The Theodore for the 2025 Holiday Ball

Contributed by the Jackson Symphony Guild

This December, the Jackson Symphony Guild invites you to experience a holiday tradition reimagined—where vintage charm meets theatrical elegance in a dazzling new setting. On Saturday, December 6, 2025, the Jackson Symphony Guild Holiday Ball will unfold at The Theodore, an exquisite new venue located in the heart of downtown Jackson.

In celebration of the Orchestra's 76th Season, this year's Ball draws inspiration from the classic Broadway musical The Music Man, with the fitting theme: "76 Trombones in the 76th Season." Throughout the evening, guests will be transported into the spirited world of River City, where brass bands march, romance blooms, and every corner echoes with the joyful promise of music.

Set within The Theodore's beautifully restored architecture, the Ball will unfold across a series of unique event spaces, each offering an immersive interpretation of The Music Man story. From a glittering "76 Trombones" ballroom, to a soft-lit parlor evoking Marian's library, to the spirited Pool Hall, each space will dazzle with festive design, nostalgic musical touches, and a sense of showstopping celebration.

"The Theodore offers us the perfect canvas to bring The Music Man theme to life," shares Guild President Melissa Callison. "We look forward to welcoming our guests into a world filled with warmth, pageantry, and purpose—all in support of the Jackson Symphony Orchestra."

With its warm lighting, restored hardwoods, and timeless architectural details, The Theodore will shine beneath the glow of the holiday season—enhanced by period-inspired décor, brass band motifs, and elegant nods to the early 20th-century Americana of Meredith Willson's beloved musical.

Whether you're joining us in the Grand March, toasting under garlands, or bidding in our signature auction, the 2025 Holiday Ball promises an unforgettable evening filled with music, meaning, and merriment.

We invite you to don your finest attire and join us for this spectacular black-tie celebration.

Reserve your table or become a sponsor at: <http://bidpal.net/themusicman>.

Jackson County Animal Shelter's Adoptable Pets: Freddie & Ladybug

Contributed by the Jackson County Animal Shelter

Freddie

Freddie is a 10-month-old, 40-pound American Staffordshire mix with a heart as big as his puppy eyes. This sweet boy was rescued by Animal Control after they received reports that he was being targeted by a group of unkind kids. Despite his rough start, Freddie is as gentle and loving as they come. He adores people and will happily stick by your side, though he might hide behind your legs if he's feeling unsure around other dogs or cats. Freddie hasn't had the chance to experience much of the world yet, so he's looking for a patient, kind home that will help him build confidence and discover all the joys life has to offer. Dog adoptions require an application, which you can find online here. The availability date is when the dog becomes JCAS property; however, any necessary medical procedures may cause a slight delay in the adoption process. A mandatory meet & greet with your dog is essential. A cat room walk-through is available to test reactions. Dogs will be placed with approved applicants, and the adoption fee is $150 for medium/large dogs and $250 for puppies/small dogs, which includes vaccinations, microchip, and sterilization.

Ladybug

Ladybug is a beautiful black domestic shorthair with a white patch on her chest and a calm, sweet nature. This four-year-old kitty was surrendered by an owner who had too many animals. Mellow and easy-going, Ladybug gets along with other cats and mostly keeps to herself, though she happily welcomes gentle pets. With her big green eyes and quiet charm, Ladybug is ready to bring warmth and companionship to her new home. Stop by and meet this gal today at the Jackson County Animal Shelter, 3370 Spring Arbor Rd., Jackson, Michigan. Cat adoption fees are $60 for one cat, $80 for two, which will include applicable tests, vaccines and spay/neutering. Any necessary medical procedures may slightly postpone an adoption. While visiting the shelter is always recommended, you can also submit an online cat application here, fax it to 517-780-4750, or email it to animalshelter@mijackson.org. For more information, visit our website at mijackson.org/579/Animal-Shelter. Find us on Facebook or view all pets on Petango.com-Shelter Details. Current Shelter Hours: Mon, Tue, Wed, Fri 10:00-4:30, Thu 10-7, Sat 10-4:30.

Cascades Humane Society's Pet of the Month

Contributed by Cascades Humane Society

Meet Cheyenne, a medium-sized mixed breed with an absolutely infectious demeanor and a heart full of love. This sweet girl is as kind as they come—gentle, affectionate, and always ready to brighten your day with her warm presence and loving nature. Cheyenne is the definition of a good girl, eager to be by your side and share in every moment. Whether you're going for a walk, curling up with a book, or just enjoying some fresh air, Cheyenne will be right there, tail wagging. She is spayed, up to date on her vaccinations, and microchipped, making her all

August 2025 Edition: Shorty's Grill

By Val Herr

Shorty's Grill is a delightful restaurant tucked into the quiet village of Horton, MI. Located at 7532 Moscow Road, Shorty's is a family restaurant that offers a wide variety of quality food and drinks at reasonable prices. While this was our first visit, it absolutely won't be our last. No matter where you live, it's worth the drive.

Its clean and comfortable atmosphere only adds to the enjoyable experience, along with friendly and efficient service. When I look for a good restaurant, I value quality food, good service, fair prices, and cleanliness—and I found all of those at Shorty's.

Our family went to dinner on a Wednesday evening, and it was busy! Full of other families dining in and folks stopping by for takeout. Even so, we didn't have to wait for anything.

Our dinner included a club sandwich, a couple of burgers, and a calzone. The calzone was the highlight of the evening—golden brown, stuffed with goodness, and cooked to perfection. We saw quite a few pizzas coming out of the kitchen as well, and when we return, we'll definitely be trying one.

One note: three of our meals came with fries, and the portion sizes varied quite a bit.

I give Shorty's Grill 4.7 stars—my highest rating so far.

I encourage you to give Shorty's Grill a try. Supporting local businesses matters. These are the places that sponsor little league teams, employ our friends and neighbors, and form the heart of our communities and local economy.

Purring with Purpose: Cascades Humane Society Celebrates New Cat Suite

Contributed by
Cascades Humane Society

The Cascades Humane Society (CHS) recently celebrated an exciting milestone in our mission to protect and care for the animals in our community—the official ribbon cutting of the Faith & James Knight Foundation Cat Suite. This beautiful new space, unveiled during our annual Blooms & Brews event on July 19, is already making a life-changing impact for countless cats in our care.

Named in honor of the generous support of the Faith and James Knight Foundation, the cat suite was designed with feline health, comfort, and safety in mind. It features a state-of-the-art air exchange system, helping to ensure the well-being of both the cats and the people who visit them. Inside, the cats enjoy cozy, individual condos—each outfitted with resting spots, enrichment toys, and room to stretch and relax. These spaces provide a low-stress, nurturing environment while they await their forever homes.

While the suite is now open and housing cats, CHS is still in need of additional cat condos to fully outfit the space. Support from individuals and organizations would go a long way in helping us complete the vision for this facility and ensure every feline resident has a safe, comfortable space to call their own. Donations toward the purchase of cat condos—or other needed supplies—are deeply appreciated and make a direct impact.

During the dedication ceremony, CHS recognized O'Harrow Construction, whose team went above and beyond to bring this vision to life. Special thanks were given to project lead Randy Nichols, who will forever be considered an honorary member of the CHS team.

"This cat suite is more than just a building," said Stefanie Riggs, Executive Director of Cascades Humane Society. "It's a promise to the cats who come through our doors—that they will be treated with dignity, love, and compassion until they find their forever homes. We are deeply grateful to the Knight Foundation, O'Harrow Construction, and our entire community for making this space a reality."

The cat suite is just one way CHS fulfills its mission to connect animals in need with people who care. Each year, CHS places more than 1,200 animals in loving homes, thanks to the tireless work of compassionate staff, dedicated volunteers, and community supporters. The organization also provides spay and neuter services, and operates the Forgotten Felines program, which humanely manages outdoor cat populations through trap-neuter-return efforts.

To continue funding this vital work, CHS invites you to laugh for a cause at Punchlines for Paws—a night of comedy to support our lifesaving mission. This year's event will feature the hilarious John Heffron, winner of NBC's Last Comic Standing, and takes place on September 27, 2025, at the Commonwealth Commerce Center in downtown Jackson.

Get ready for a night of non-stop laughter with John Heffron! A veteran of the comedy scene, John has brought his sharp wit and relatable humor to The Tonight Show, The Late Late Show, HBO, FX, and VH1. He's starred in two Comedy Central specials, and his hit hour-long show Middle Class Funny is now streaming on Netflix. Don't miss your chance to see one of comedy's finest live on stage—right here in Jackson! Tickets are on sale now at Eventbrite.com, and all proceeds help provide shelter, medical care, and second chances for animals in need.

Whether it's through adopting a pet, attending one of our events, making a donation, or simply spreading the word, there are countless ways to support Cascades Humane Society. Together, we're making a difference—one paw at a time.

JPS Welcomes Julie Baker as Deputy Superintendent, Curriculum & Federal Programs

*Contributed by
Jackson Public Schools*

Jackson Public Schools is proud to announce the appointment of Ms. Julie Baker as the district's new Deputy Superintendent, Curriculum & Federal Programs. A lifelong Viking with nearly three decades of educational leadership, Ms. Baker steps into this expanded role with a deep commitment to advancing student learning and instructional excellence.

A 1987 graduate of Jackson High School, Ms. Baker's ties to the community run deep. She began her journey with Jackson Public Schools as a 5th-grade student and has spent her professional life serving the district. She holds a Bachelor's Degree in Biology from Michigan State University, a Teacher Certification from Eastern Michigan University, a Master's Degree in Elementary Education from Spring Arbor University, and a Master's Degree in Educational Leadership from Eastern Michigan University.

During her 29 years at JPS, Ms. Baker has held a variety of key roles, including teacher, principal, and, most recently, Assistant Superintendent of Elementary Education. Her leadership has driven major district initiatives, including the successful launch of the Young Fives program and the creation of a new public Montessori school.

She has focused on aligning curriculum and strengthening academic support systems, ensuring students at every level are well-positioned for success.

Outside of her professional life, Ms. Baker enjoys spending time with her family and is the proud mother of her daughter, Emily. Her personal and professional experiences within the district give her a unique and lasting perspective on the needs of students and educators alike.

"I am honored to serve in this new role and continue the work I love—supporting our students, teachers, and families across the district. As a JPS graduate, educator, and parent, I believe deeply in the potential of our schools and our community. I look forward to advancing the district's vision of academic excellence and student success," said Ms. Baker.

"Julie is a lifelong Viking who is committed to the mission and vision of the district. Her knowledge, years of experience, and expertise make her an ideal leader to move the district forward. Her success stories are numerous; however, her leadership on the JPS District Improvement Team is taking the district to new heights! Ms. Baker is ALL in for Jackson Public Schools, and we look forward to the positive impact she will have in this new assignment!" praised Jeremy Patterson, Superintendent.

Imagine Planet Dino Day

By Jean McKim,
Imagine Planet

Ah, dinosaurs! Some of us never outgrow being fascinated by these imagination-inspiring creatures. But what exactly makes a dinosaur a dinosaur?

When I went to college for paleontology in the early 1980s, we learned to identify species based on skeletal characteristics, and animals were grouped in separate and discrete categories by these characteristics and by time. There were two kinds of dinosaurs based on their hip structure: saurischians (lizard-hipped) and ornithischians (bird-hipped). Birds, pterosaurs, marine-dwelling lizards, and plesiosaurs were not included. Also excluded were the ever-popular Dimetrodon, lizards, crocodiles, and other non-dinosaur reptiles.

By the time I arrived at the University of Michigan in 1986, a new classification method was gaining acceptance, known as cladistics, which utilizes computers to perform the calculations. This approach is less intuitive, focusing on the relationships between animals, specifically the sharing of a common ancestor. More recently, genetic sequencing and the molecular clock have added to our knowledge. Science is constantly changing and challenging itself, and new evidence leads to new conclusions.

None of this helps to determine whether my plastic animal toy is a dinosaur or not. This might help:

1. If it had wings, it wasn't a dinosaur (at least during the Mesozoic). In other words, no pterosaurs.

2. If it swam all the time in the ocean, it wasn't a dinosaur. These include the fish-like ichthyosaurs, the lizard relatives or mosasaurs, and Nessie look-alikes, the plesiosaurs and pliosaurs. If its feet are paddles, it's not a dinosaur.

3. If its legs stick out to the sides instead of being entirely under the body of the animal, then it isn't a dinosaur. That would include the crocodiles, lizards, and other reptiles.

If you watch the Jurassic Park and World movies (parental guidance suggested), you can see how our knowledge of dinosaurs has progressed in the last 40 years. I was a graduate student when Jurassic Park came out, and we all went together to watch it. At the time, it was up to date, and the animatronics were amazing. Now we know that more dinosaurs had feathers and that Spinosaurus was semi-aquatic. There are many dinosaurs with combinations of Chinese and Latin names. The biggest dinosaur keeps changing and being discovered, as does the smallest. This does not mean that the science of the 1980s was wrong; it means we have more information now. We will continue to gather more information and learn more and more about dinosaurs and their descendants, the birds.

On August 16, Imagine Planet will be celebrating Dino Day from 12 to 5 p.m. We will have activities for the youngest visitors, including playing with dino toys and making dino footprints, and for the older visitors who can show off their dinosaur knowledge with dino trivia. Come see if our resident paleontologist can stump you or if you can stump her. As always, admission is free, although donations are welcome.
