

Step-by-Step Guide to Your Pharmacy Career Abroad

A Simple Plan for South African Pharmacists

Brought to you by Sam Le Roux Consulting

Welcome, South African Pharmacists!

Ready to launch your pharmacy career in the UK, Australia, or New Zealand? This guide offers a clear, step-by-step plan to start your immigration journey. Our immigration team at Sam Le Roux Consulting is here to help you with personalized consultations and expert guidance. Follow these steps to begin!

1 Step 1: Confirm Your Pharmacy Qualifications

Ensure your qualifications are recognized in your target country:

- UK: Contact the General Pharmaceutical Council (GPhC).
- Australia: Reach out to the Australian Pharmacy Council (APC).
- New Zealand: Connect with the Pharmacy Council of New Zealand (PCNZ).
- Gather your BPharm degree, transcripts, and work references.

2 Step 2: Check Your English Proficiency

Most visas require proof of English skills:

- Take a test like IELTS Academic or OET (common for pharmacists).
- Aim for a high score (e.g., IELTS Band 7 or OET B).
- Book early, as results take a few weeks.

3 Step 3: Prepare Key Documents

Collect these essentials for your visa application:

- Valid passport.
- Police clearance certificate.
- Proof of work experience (e.g., employer letters).
- Family details if including spouse or children.

4 Step 4: Get Expert Guidance

Immigration can feel complex, but we make it simple! To start:

- Visit www.samleroux.co.za and complete our contact form.
- Share your qualifications and goals.
- Our immigration team at Sam Le Roux Consulting will assess your visa eligibility and guide you and your family through the best visa pathway (e.g., UK Skilled Worker Visa, Australia Subclass 482, or New Zealand Skilled Migrant Visa).

Simplify the complexities of immigration with our personalized consultations and expert guidance. From assessing your eligibility to submitting compliant applications, our team ensures your process is smooth and stress-free.

5 Step 5: Join Our Community

Connect with other South African pharmacists moving abroad:

- Join our Bushveld to Bondi Facebook group (Bushveld to Bondi), a social platform for visa tips, updates, and support.
- Stay informed about immigration and pharmacy registration requirements.
