A note from our CEO

We want your SAP Implementations to be a great success.

This is possible only with the right resources.

Too many Project Managers struggle with the hiring process due to lack of technical expertise of HR Managers who have never felt the kind of pressure a Project Manager faces.
Sometimes this problem is not felt acutely until after a Resource has been hired, only for the Project Manager to realise that there has been a hiring mistake.

PIND is dedicated to solving this problem.

We are a tech-aware HR company that is run by highly technical SAP experts who have been personally responsible for delivering large SAP Projects and implementations.

We are eager to see your business thrive.
