ALBATROSS ALERT

October 30th 2022

Dean Knuth, former USGA Handicap senior director, says the odds of making an Albatross at just over One Million to One

1,000,000 : 1

Hats Off to Tommy Kreisher for making an ALBATROSS (2) aka DOUBLE EAGLE on the Par 5 6th hole at Turkey Creek. After roasting a 294 yard drive Tommy chose a 5 iron to pull off this amazing feat. Worth noting: Tommy was playing in the Sunday Skins game and was aware of a stellar eagle by Jeff Ridley in the group ahead of him. Imagine the shock when the group ahead heard the monumental roars coming from 6 fairway.

RE: BUNKERS In the beginning... there were volunteers.

They raised Turkey Creek Golf Course from the dead and helped make it possible to be what it is today.

Those volunteers reopened the bunkers by spraying them out with herbicide, cutting out sod, tilling them, and then dragging and raking for endless hours. Back braking work is what it was. So, after two years of traffic in and out of these exposed bunkers they had gotten a little hard. We decided it was time to soften them up some. That is exactly what we did on November 29th. We tilled, spun, and raked all the bunkers. I know that everyone got used to the way they were, but change is inevitable (sorry). It is in the plans to properly renovate our bunkers. Until then, we plan on repeating this process in a more uniform timeline to create a better product as far as bunkers are concerned.

RE: OVERSEEDING

It's that time of year. Yes, I know everyone was waiting on it. "When are you going to overseed the greens?!" We did it and it is done. Almost... We overseeded greens, tees, collars, and approaches between NOV 14/15. We then made our first cut two weeks later on NOV 28/29. We started with a little higher cut on the greens and have progressively dropped that to accommodate both the health of grass growth and golfer preference. There has been, and will be some additional seeding and processes on all greens and tees. The common goal is to have the best putting surface and least amount of transition between seasons. Thank you for your patronage, patience, and understanding.
