2025 Hall of Fame Induction

By every account, the 2025 Induction was a great success. Principal Glowacz said it best, "We had a beautiful induction ceremony yesterday and honored all of the inductees at half time. You would have been very proud to see how happy all of the guests were. There were many tears of joy and appreciation, and great memories of Taft shared by all."

At the homecoming game, the honorees were caught at halftime by Steven White '88.

Barb (Borek) Littel '76 commented, "What an inspiring night! All of the inductees had such interesting stories. They were all done well by Taft."

Each honoree received a commemorative plaque, a TAA baseball cap, and a complimentary TAA membership.

The next TAA Hall of Fame induction will take place in 2028. It's never too soon to consider worthy nominees.

Taft's Gifted Program to Expand

As reported by Brian Nadig in the Nadig Newspapers, Taft is expanding its Seventh and Eighth Grade Academic Center next school year. The center, which admits students via testing, currently has three classes each for 7th and 8th grades (about 28 students per class). Planned is a fourth 7th-grade class to be added in August, and an additional 8th-grade class to be added in 2027–28, eventually growing to eight classrooms and roughly 224 students. Taft's total enrollment at the two campuses is about 4,200.

The center began around 25 years ago as a way to attract high-achieving local students; now, about 93% of participants come from Taft's feeder or preference-zone schools.

The gifted program was moved to Taft's Freshman Academy (built in 2019) to ease overcrowding at the main campus, and with steady freshman enrollment, the school leadership says they can accommodate more gifted-program students. According to principal Dr. Ryan Glowacz, "We just got to the point where we could accommodate slightly more academic center students, and historically we always carried a larger academic center enrollment."

Still, one ongoing challenge has been retaining Academic Center students after 8th grade — historically, only 30–40% stay at Taft for high school. Those who leave often go to selective-enrollment high schools. With the expansion, administrators hope to improve retention and offer more students a stronger start.

Alumni Authors Index Grows

After announcing the creation of an Alumni Authors Index, we had an extraordinary response, and quickly learned that Taft's alumni talent didn't stop with the written word.

Now called the Alumni Creative Arts and Sciences Index, we have expanded the index to include published musical compositions, and productions for theater, television, radio, and more.

The index resides on the TAA website here:

Class of 1968 Reunion Luncheon

For their latest reunion luncheon in October, 1968 classmates met at the Beacon Tap for a pizza party.

Annual Taft Alumni Get-Together

November's annual all-class affair at Moretti's saw great attendance and great smiles.

Alumni News & Views

All Taft grads should be aware that our alma mater is the origin of Grease. However, how many of you have seen the original play, which was performed in Chicago, opening 2/8/1971 (54 years ago!)? On October 12, 2025, the play was performed at the Metropolis Theater, Arlington Heights. It was a mixture of the movie music, the original play, and the Broadway version. Some of the class of January 1965 met to see the play and have dinner afterwards. A good time was had...

Bob Johnson, Jan '65

I really enjoy reading the newsletter and appreciate all the Alumni Association does to keep us all in touch with each other. We all had a very special "Taft Experience" and I encourage newer alumni to attend your nearest get-togethers. It is great to see old pals, but also make new friends with our special shared Eagle history. I especially enjoy the SoCal annual get-togethers hosted by Jan Savage (1974) who graciously hosts the event each year. Thank you for all you do, and hope we see each other for our 50th next year (hopefully).

Gail Uhlar-Murray, 1976

Susan Moresi (1973) invites alumni to listen to her podcast "Here's What I Say by Sue Moresi." It's available through spreaker.com, Spotify, and other podcast outlets. Sue says, "I discuss topics of interest to me--local news, broader issues, books, TV, movie reviews, and other interesting bits of information."

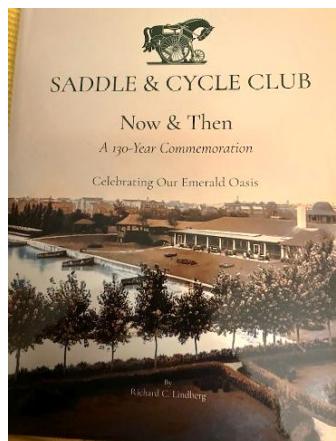

The January '60 luncheon committee sport their new Taft Alumni shirts. Lew and Bob attended kindergarten together at Hitch, and the Scouts.

We spent our summer at our place on Cushing Island, Maine, and have been travelling to Boise, ID, where our son and his family live. Our grandson Rodi is now 2+ years and is so cute! Our daughter Thalia, who lives in Brooklyn, is expecting a baby in April, and we are thrilled. Hope everyone is doing well.

Evanthia Malliris, 1972

On October 3, 2025, Bill Schalk (Jan '60) was awarded the prestigious Coe College Distinguished Service Award in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The award is a lifetime honor for alumni or friends of the college, who display exceptional stewardship to Coe through their service and/or financial contributions. Bill was inducted into the Taft Alumni Hall of Fame in 2004.

Rich Lindberg (1971) has published his latest book, a coffee table history of the Saddle & Cycle Club in Chicago, founded as a bicycle club along the shores of Lake Michigan in 1895. There was a time capsule laying in the Club's garden to be opened in 130 years. Rich was inducted into the Taft Alumni Hall of Fame in 2000.

When Lynn (Hibarger) Saracco, Jun '62, landed in town for a family reunion, she took the opportunity to show off her alma mater to her children. Principal Glowacz was happy to show them around.

Hello Taft! Larry Lonson Class 1968. Shortstop for the Taft 1968 City Championship Baseball Team, still active playing shortstop in the 70+ Timeless Division at the 2025 Roy Hobbs World Series at historic Terry Park in Ft. Meyers, Florida. "LOVE OF THE GAME"

Thanks for all you do!

Remembering Larry Marsh

My brother, Taft June 1959 Graduate Larry Marsh died suddenly on October 31, 2025. He and his wife Barb had planned to attend Larry's Taft class reunion on December 29th.

Larry retired from the Navy a Two Star Admiral. Former Taft English teacher Edith Strandberg had urged Larry to accept his appointment to the United States Naval Academy. Our Dad just "happened" to forget to mail Larry's letter declining his appointment. I remember Larry taking a train to stay with Uncle Evert in Baltimore before beginning his Plebe Year at the Academy. He graduated eighth in his class from the Academy and entered into the submarine service after completing an interview with Admiral Hyman Rickover.

Larry served on the USS Flasher and was Captain of the "boomer" USS Will Rogers. The USS Will Rogers would "hide" underwater and had nuclear missiles to act as a deterrent to the Soviet Union. The USS Will Rogers was deactivated in 1993.

Our son, Alan, followed Larry to the United States Naval Academy and served on the fast attack submarine the USS Montpelier. (Larry claimed he had no influence on Alan's decision to apply!)

A week before his death, Larry and Barb went to a reunion of the crews for the USS Will Rogers. They enjoyed meeting some former crew members and had many stories to tell when they served on the submarine.

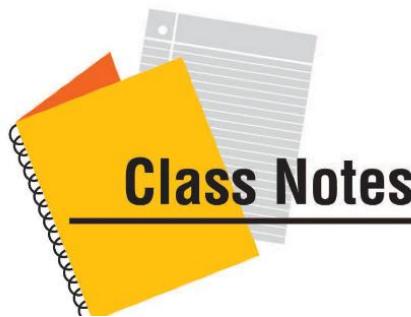

Larry was President of his Taft class and after he retired from the Navy, he started a committee to begin having high school class reunions under the heading "Together Again". His class would meet two or three times a year. The June 1959 class was responsible for Taft's Alumni Clock.

As a student at Taft Larry participated in basketball and baseball. He claimed his "bow" legs were not because he was a catcher.

Larry was inducted into the Taft Alumni Hall of Fame in 1995.

We all will miss Larry.

Yearbooks to be Offered Once Again

By next spring, the Taft Alumni Association will again be offering yearbooks for sale, although not all years are currently available.

The yearbook inventory holds both new and used (inner covers filled with student's written comments). Surplus yearbooks will be sold as follows:

- $50 for new yearbooks (includes shipping via media mail)
- $35 for used yearbooks (includes shipping via media mail)
- Yearbooks picked up in person will have the $8 delivery charge waived

Watch for a list of available yearbooks in the next issue. TAA gratefully accepts donated yearbooks.

Taft "Spirit Week"

As reported by Brian Nadig in the Nadig Newspapers, Principal Dr. Ryan Glowacz volunteered to be taped to a wall—and temporarily suspended off the floor—as part of the school's "Spirit Week" celebrating the end of the semester in December. Other activities included an ugly sweater day and a variety of foods offered by Taft's cultural clubs.

"The thing I didn't expect was it was very hot. [The duct tape] sort of held in the heat," Glowacz said. Six rolls of blue duct tape and 20 minutes did the trick. Staff members participated alongside students, while a trusted "bodyguard" made sure his face remained untouched.

"My wife even brought by our two kids [and] our two-year-old even placed tape," said Glowacz. Wood blocks placed under his feet were removed when the taping was completed, suspending him off the floor.

"I was suspended for only about a minute," Glowacz said. "I requested to be down pretty quickly." He admitted that it felt a little freaky.

Despite some apprehension about being suspended, Glowacz would not rule out doing it again, or perhaps another adventure, mentioning how a principal at a feeder elementary school volunteered for a dunk tank.

A 2006 Taft graduate in his second year as principal, Glowacz has proven to be a very good sport
