

PORTER'S PLAYERS: Michelle Britton and Mark Mastro rehearse a scene from Cole Porter musical which will open at Town Dock on Sunday, Aug. 18, at 8 p.m.

Teens to perform

The Teen Summer Theater, a group of 50 young people, is presently in final rehearsals of a 1930s Cole Porter musical comedy, which will open on Sunday, Aug. 18, at the Town Dock.

Additional performances are scheduled for Monday, Aug. 19, and Friday, Aug. 23, at Manorhaven Park; Saturday, Aug. 24, at Clinton Martin Park, New Hyde Park; and Sunday, Aug. 25, again at the Town Dock. All performances are due to begin at 8 p.m.

The group has previously presented "Anything Goes" and "Bye Bye Birdie" at the Sousa Band Shell. The performances this summer are being given as part of the Town of North Hempstead's summer concert series in the town's portable band shell. Supported by donations from local businessmen and friends, the Town of North Hempstead and the Port Play Troupe, all performances will be free and open to the public.
