

Teen Theatre

The Teen Summer Theater, a group of fifty talented young people, are now in final rehearsals of their 1930's Cole Porter musical comedy, which will open next Sunday, Aug. 18, at the Town Dock. Additional performances will be seen Aug. 19 and 23 at Manorhaven Park, Aug. 24 at Clinton Martin Park and Aug. 25 at the Town Dock.

The group has previously presented "Anything Goes" and "Bye Bye Birdie" at the Sousa Bandshell.

The performances this summer are presented as part of the Town of North Hempstead's Summer Concert Series in the Town's portable band shell. Supported by donations from local businessmen and friends, the Town of North Hempstead and the Port Play Troupe, all performances are free to the public.
