End-of-show party - Gino's Pizzeria

Dear Friends of the Port Summer Show,

Welcome to Seaport (a.k.a. Port Washington), L.I. We know you'll agree that Port Summer Show's Long Island debut of the original Babes in Arms is a rousing success.

Our heartfelt thanks to the entire company – the cast, crew and musicians who have worked tirelessly this summer to present this engaging musical. And of course, to the parents, friends and siblings who work behind the scenes and throughout the year to make these shows happen.

Our productions would not be possible without the cooperation of our many sponsors and merchants in town. You have our gratitude and appreciation for your support.

As I step back and look at my surroundings and the friendships that I have made past and present, I realize that I have loved unconditionally and have been loved by others.

Friendship is the base of life. Without friendship there is an incomplete void that must be filled. I am lucky enough to have found the best friends that I will ever have at such an early age, but the most amazing part about it is that not only do I have them, but I have them in abundance. I would like to take this time now to acknowledge those people who helped me through the laughter, the tears, the good times, and the bad. The ones who helped me to find myself while they were finding themselves.

I should start off with the first friend that I made in this town. Debi, thank you for being there for me. Six years and still counting, I love you. Jacki, Jill, Jane, Kat, Harmony, and Drina, you are my beacons from girl nights to midnight swims, I love you and I wish we could have shared the stage one last time. Evan, Bob (Evan), Ryan, Morgan, Tim, and Dan, I love you. We had a sloshing time this year, sharing the stage with four of you was an unforgettable experience. Charles Albanese, you strolled into our lives this year and kept us on our toes. You became a close loving friend to all of us, I love you. Charles Geizhals, you have been a friend since seventh grade, and the time has flown by, I love you and respect your talents immensely. Gennaro, what can I say? We had a great time throughout the years, I love you for your talents and ambitions. Jenny, we have acted together for about six years and every year you amaze me. It was wonderful growing as an actress with you. Eric, in the short time that we got to know each other I felt that a friendship has blossomed. One that I hope will continue throughout the years. Mardi, Cam, Mr. Glover, and Mr. Gamell, I want to thank you for your support and encouragement in helping me to find my dream. Elisa, thank you for being my coach and close friend, I love you and could never ever forget you. Mike, you have a hard job, but your patience in abundance and your heart is always apparent. It was great working with you and I love you. I would like to thank my father for being there, coming to the shows and encouraging me. Last but not least I would like to thank my mother. She is my best friend and confidant. Thank you for putting up with me for eighteen years, I love you. To those whom I've left out I am terribly sorry, I love you but this is mad expensive and I cannot fit everyone. I love y'all.

Thank you
Love always and forever,
Caryn

Thank You for contributing to Port Summer Show

Well, this is it, my last show. The summer just won't be the same without the summer show. Four years ago during Meet Me in St. Louis, I met some very special people who seemed so old to me because they were either going off to college or were close to finishing high school. I wasn't even a freshman. But anyway, Beechnut, I can't remember who is and who isn't. David: Aren't you glad that I introduced you to theatre; never forget the interesting songs that we created on the telephone. Henry: You will always be my son. Peter: I'm so glad that we became friends this year. I hope we never lose touch. Don't worry too much about next year. Priscilla: Do the show next year; it's your last chance. Angela and Maria: Good luck at finishing SHA, the year will fly (I promise). Meagan: The girl who shares the same exact birthday, always do your best. Mrs. DiRaimondo and Mrs. Hanlon: Thank you for always being kind to me. Laura: You're great and so is your mom. Mike: You're an awesome director and I'm amazed that you knew my name. Ned: I fear you as a lifeguard with me (just kidding); you won't even need a whistle, just your siren mouth. Charles A.: One day I'd like to see that video of me in the white dress. Mrs. Mogul and Perri: Thanks for the rides home. Kerry: Smile, even though next year I won't be there to do stupid things to make you laugh. Maria: Remember pool (the game and where I work). Susie and Maria S.: Only three more years without men. Ben, Jon L. and Joe S.: Good luck and always smile. Rob: Stay kind and cool. To everyone else, enjoy the show and remember that it's just for fun.

Love, Courtney G-T
