

Activity

Use your printer to print photos of family and friends. Cut out a paper mask and place it over each person's face. Ask your child to identify each person. As they do, remove the mask and say, "Yes! That is _____." Do this activity to help your child understand that the mask does not change who the person is.

