

UTILITIES SECTOR

BACKGROUND

With over 25 years of dedicated service and a track record of delivering reliable and efficient solutions, D R Clark Services continues to be a leader in providing essential engineering services to the water industry and beyond. Their comprehensive suite of services and commitment to quality and safety make them a preferred partner for mechanical, fabrication and civil engineering projects. D R Clark Services is recognised for its adherence to strict industry standards and holds prestigious certifications. The company is Achilles audited and CHAS accredited, ensuring compliance with the highest safety and quality benchmarks. On-site engineers are equipped with a range of industry-accredited certifications including confined space entry, PASMA, IPAF, CSCS, CCNSG, SMSTS, SSSTS, EUSR, Thames Water passport, and first aid training, which underscores their commitment to safety and excellence.

OVERVIEW

As Associate Director of D R Clark Services, I have witnessed firsthand the significant contributions that Carlin Health, Safety and Training has made to our organisation. Over the years, their expertise has been instrumental in our growth, particularly as we expanded into new sectors. Their support has been crucial not only in maintaining compliance but also in enhancing our health and safety practices to the highest standards.

SUSTAINED PARTNERSHIP

Our relationship with Carlin began several years ago, and since then, it has evolved into a partnership defined by mutual respect and a shared commitment to workplace safety. Their guidance has become even more vital as we have grown and diversified our operations. With each new sector we enter, Carlin has ensured that we uphold and exceed the regulatory standards, safeguarding our team and our business reputation.

COMPREHENSIVE SYSTEM

A pivotal aspect of our collaboration with Carlin has been their assistance in developing and implementing our management systems to achieve ISO 9001, 14001, and 45001 certifications.

This initiative has dramatically enhanced our operational efficiency and compliance with international standards, positioning us as a leader in our industry.

ENHANCED COMMUNICATION AND COLLABORATION

A key aspect of our successful partnership with Carlin has been the exceptional working relationship we have developed. This relationship has opened new doors in communication, allowing us to discuss any issue, no matter the size. The team at Carlin is always accessible and ready to provide real-world explanations that demystify complex compliance and safety issues. This open line of communication has empowered our team, fostering a proactive approach to health and safety.

ONGOING COMMITMENT AND FUTURE ASPIRATIONS

We continue to work closely with Carlin, relying on their expertise to guide us through the ever-changing landscape of regulations and best practices. Our ongoing collaboration is built on a foundation of trust and shared goals. We are committed to not just meeting but exceeding health and safety standards, and Carlin has been pivotal in helping us achieve these objectives.

As we look to the future, our partnership with Carlin remains a cornerstone of our strategy. We are enthusiastic about continuing this collaboration for many years to come, confident in the knowledge that with their support, we can maintain our commitment to excellence in all areas of compliance and safety.

Carlin has not just been a service provider for us but a vital partner in our journey towards health and safety excellence. We highly recommend Carlin to any organisation looking to enhance their health and safety practices and regulatory compliance. Their impact on our operations has been profound, and we are grateful for their partnership.

Kyle Sanders | Associate Director
D R Clark Services