CASITA

As its name indicates, it is a small version of a 'home', (Casita=little house in Spanish). This model has been created to provide a modern living quarters for several applications, from permanent residence to additional room for visitors to rental units. It has reduced space, without losing the convenience of modern living and with all needed amenities including a full bathroom, a full kitchen, and sleeping capacity for four (4). Natural light, outdoors and a sense of adventures are the first things that come to mind when enjoying this model. It could be easily upgraded to offer off-grid solution with the use of solar panels and environmentally friendly utilities.
