Becca's Challenge!!!

The first section that has the entire opener (Loki) memorized by every member of their section AND can prove it to Becca will receive a whole section prize. A friendly reminder that memorization is not just the notes on the page. Once the first section notifies Becca and can prove memorization at one of their sectionals, they will choose either free pizza, ice cream, or slushies as a reward at the following sectional (along with Becca's eternal respect). Also! There is a second prize that will not be shared at this time. If you really impress me, there is also a secret third prize that I will share at a later time but only if you...get practicing!!!

*Drumline must be the full line to be considered for this challenge.

*My apologies, guard is not eligible for this challenge.
