

Virtual Summer Institute

Engage . Empower . Enlighten

Now a Webinar!

Join the staff and friends of Momentum in Teaching for their annual Institute – this one reimagined for these unprecedented times. This virtual 3-day institute promises to engage through a motivational keynote address, with Rushton Hurley followed by a collection of two-hour courses covering a range of topics designed to further enlighten and grow your understanding and craft of workshop teaching, CGI and SEL, whether it be in the classroom or via distance learning. Reflect on your last few months of teaching away from your kids and discover new ways to approach them in the fall, however that might look. Come back to the new year refreshed and loaded with new ideas. We may not be able to embrace you in person, but we can't wait to see you on Zoom in July.

Keynote: Rushton Hurley

Rushton Hurley has worked all over the globe as a Japanese language teacher, school principal, school improvement consultant, and inspirational speaker. He directs the educational nonprofit Next Vista for Learning, which houses a free library of creative educational and service videos at NextVista.org, and holds Masters Degrees in Education and East Asian Studies from Stanford University.

The author of three books, Rushton's fun and thoughtful talks and writing center on inspiration and creativity, technology and leadership, avenues for engaging learning, the power of digital media and tools for collaboration, and personal and professional perspectives in a technology-infused, ever-changing world.
