

Evan Jones

253-683-1309

evanpjones@yahoo.com

Boise, ID

Multimedia Journalist:

Emerging writer and journalist passionate about Earth, Life, and Humanity. Uses special operations background to explore and cover hard-to-reach stories. Available for contract and full-time remote or hybrid positions.

Skills and Applications:

Skydiving and airborne photography, scuba diving and underwater photography, off-road racing and high-speed photography, Adobe Suite, Adobe Photoshop, Final Draft, Instagram, narrative writing, graphic design, complex problem-solving, active listening, editing, proofreading, blogging, and multi-media communications.

Education:

Full Sail University, Creative Writing concentration, Certificate/
Creative Writing BFA, expected graduation date: 03/01/2026

Experience:

Multimedia Storytelling - 3 credits - March 2024 - Learned building blocks of visual storytelling, communicating moods, emotions, ideas, sounds, and scenery through props and how to represent the four-dimensional world through clear and evocative writing.

Media Communications and Technologies - 3 credits - April 2024 - examined various analytical and strategic perspectives while being introduced to industry-production tools and techniques while making sense of the dynamic field of media communications through critical analysis of real-world media campaigns.

Military Operations - May 2002 - Dec 2019

Authored hundreds of professional after-action reports for integration into published national security contingency operation strategies. Produced thousands of high-quality multimedia documents to distill complex operations into easily digestible tactical quick-reference guides. Photographed tactical operations and training for integration into white papers and standard operating procedures for a national mission force. Deployed in direct-combat capacity for U.S. national security contingency operations, totaling 36 months overseas in active combat zones. Received the Silver Star, Bronze Star with valor, Purple Heart, and Joint Accommodation Medals in defense of the United States of America overseas.