

Happy 17th Birthday To The Second Home

10 Years Ago,

I entered an abode.

Where I was taught how to smile,

Where I learnt how to live life.

It never felt that this place was just 'a school',

Because I was provided with warm love and it's so true.

When I was in darkness, I was shown light,

When I felt weak, I was taught to fight.

This place was never just a 'school'

It became my home and family too.

A place I was gifted with divine bonds,

A place where I was taught to be strong.

It was never just a 'school'

As no one here was made to feel blue.

The most wonderful teachers, the funniest friends,

They are the ones who provided me with courage and strength.

We would remember each and every moment spent here,

As we have so many fond memories that we hold dear.

10 Years Ago,

When Manav Mangal Smart School became my home,

A place where everyone is a family and is never left alone.

Dear Manav Mangal Smart School,

May you grow, flourish and continue making lives of so many blessed children like us in the countless years to come.
