

A very good afternoon to honourable director sir, Principal Ma'am, Vice Principal ma'am teachers, coordinators and all my lovely friends. I am blessed and honoured to have got this wonderful opportunity to address you all. I am happy yet a sense of dejection runs down since this would be the last day we would share with our friends and teachers. Cheers to all the laughter's and fights that we shared throughout and the bond we share today.

I still remember the day, when I stepped in this school for the first time, as a starter and an immature child holding a blank canvas of life. But today, I stand here as a young individual full of enthusiasm and zeal to step out into a new world of opportunities. A Thank you to my lovely teachers and mentors for painting the canvas so beautifully.... You all have been the lighthouse of our lives that has not only illuminated our minds but has ignited a fire of passion for learning and pursuing our dreams.

Now for our dear school Manav Mangal. It is not just a school for us but a mother who nurtured us and kept us rooted to our culture at every step. It taught us to be gentle to the mankind and tough to fight the challenges. Keeping with the spirit of its Motto- "Stop not till the Goal is reached, our reverent Director Sir has worked hard consistently to make a difference to the lives of so many of our students for over 56 years now.

The vision of our honourable director sir has been embodied in us so much that I promise that one day we will emerge as individuals with box full of wisdom, hopes, aspirations and empathy towards the world.

The hardwork and coordination between the management and the teachers presents the greatest example of dedication and visionary leadership which we have witnessed for all these years. May the flag of Manav Mangal fly high forever!

Thank you!!

Prapti Rajesh
