In my practice, I take a psychoanalytic/psychodynamic outlook on emotional distress. My approach to working with clients is deeply humanistic, honoring the singular subjectivity and unique process of maturation of each and every person. I offer a space of deep listening and collaborative alliance. Together, we can achieve greater awareness of your thoughts, feelings, and problematic patterns, and an understanding of the causes of symptoms and blocks to living life as you desire.

Education: University of the Cumberland – Masters of Arts in Clinical Mental Health Counseling,
University of West Georgia – Doctor of Philosophy in Psychology

Major course work included: Advanced Psychological Assessment in Clinical Practice, Etiology and Diagnosis of Mental Disorders, Process and Techniques of Counseling, Group Counseling, Child and Adolescent Counseling, Marriage and Family Counseling, Counseling During Grief and Crisis, Theory and Practice of Multicultural Counseling, Theory and Technique of Treating Addiction and Substance Abuse, Consciousness and Experience, Culture & Subjectivity, Foundations of Humanistic Psychology, Advanced Lacanian Psychoanalysis, Human Science Methodologies, Narrative & Brief Therapy, Studies in Mind/Body, Advanced Qualitative Research

As a Registered Associate of the state of Oregon, I abide by the Code of Ethics. I also abide by the ACA (American Counseling Association) Code of Ethics. To maintain my registration, I am supervised by Sarah Baird, PsyD (OR #2094).

Fees: I operate on a needs-based sliding scale from $100-220 per individual, 50-minute session.
