Once in a while an event series is born that shakes things up, it makes you think differently. If you're an entrepreneur, small business owner, HR professional, a CEO or a community leader – and you've got something to say or to learn about talent, culture or technology at work– Disrupt is the place. Disrupt is an information exchange event designed to energize, inform and empower people in the HR, leadership and business operations fields.

You will network, let down your hair and hear from the boldest and most imaginative minds in a rapid-fire, ignite-style evening of about a dozen stimulating 5-minute keynote speeches that are sure to challenge the tired and outdated business practices that business owners, leaders and professionals face on a daily basis. Finally, you will leave relieved learning how to deal with "that employee situation" while also snagging a few new business contacts.

Grownups Only. Adult Language! This is not your grandmas HR.

Pizza will be provided.
First beer is on us!
Food truck will also be on-site.
