

ILSA JULE – STORYTELLER (AND OCCASIONAL LIAR)

“Ilsa Jule is riveting from the moment she steps onto the stage until the moment she leaves. I Lied to Marianne Williamson is funny...raw...poignant...intelligent and deeply moving....a must see!”

–Jean LeBec, Moth StorySlam champion

“Ilsa’s stories are smart, funny, vivid, and real. From celebrity run-ins to car crashes, I Lied to Marianne Williamson engages and delights. A+”

–Jeff Rose, Co-host of New York Story Exchange

In 2016 Ilsa Jule turned 50 – she stopped drinking* and started storytelling. Two years later she made her off-off Broadway debut in the solo show: I Lied to Marianne Williamson – a totally true story. It ran for 5 performances as part of Frigid 2018.

For one night only, June 20, I Lied to Marianne Williamson will be presented as part of Queerly at the Kraine Theater.

Ilsa is available to discuss sobriety, storytelling, writing, her day job in book publishing, and performing. She’s a joy to interview.

*She didn’t stop drinking because of an addiction or for the Whole30, she stopped simply to see what it would feel like to give up drinking for 10 years. We’ll know in about 8 if it was worth it.

Upcoming Performance:

Wednesday, June 20, 2018

The Kraine Theater

85 E 4th St, New York, NY 10003

7 pm

$20.00, general admission

Jeff Rose is a longtime co-host of New York Story Exchange and the variety show, I Have a Crazy Idea. After seeing Ilsa perform for the first time he booked her as a feature at New York Story Exchange.

Jean Le Bec is a Moth StorySlam champion who has been featured on Risk, Yum's The Word, Surprise Stories, Take Two, New York Story Exchange, Two Truths And A Lie, Tell It Brooklyn, City Stories, Word Up, Look Who's Talking, and City Stories, as well as the podcasts Risk, Singleling, Unhireable, and Tall Tales In The Big City; and a week-long artist in residence on Governor's Island 2016.
