Introduction

CUSTOM PACKAGING

We understand the importance of your brand's value, and that's why we offer fully customized tea packaging tailored to your unique requirements.

What is Private Label or White Label Tea?

Private label (or white label) tea refers to an arrangement where a supplier manufactures and packages tea under the buyer's brand at the supplier's facility. The buyer then markets and distributes the product as their own.

This business model is a proven strategy that helps reduce both production and supply chain costs while allowing you to focus on building your brand and market presence.
