

GENERATIVE AI

FOR LEADERS & MANAGERS

Generative AI is a potentially revolutionizing force, representing a new set of capabilities that are quickly becoming invaluable across industries and sectors. It creates both exciting possibilities and serious risks.

For leaders and managers, establishing a foundational awareness in Generative AI is increasingly non-negotiable. That's because it is reshaping business and organizational arenas in fundamental ways and raising questions leaders will increasingly be called upon to have answers for or at the very least be ready to engage with.

Generative AI for Leaders & Managers is an accessible, introductory 10-day self-paced program using Adeptive Advisory's unique 'L15' Learning Methodology (designed to help busy leaders learn up in as little as 15 minutes per day). It is appropriate for managers at any level who are just getting started with Generative AI and would appreciate some foundations and a general grounding in some of the key issues to be aware of.
