From the President

We exist to serve those who have been called to ministry by providing quality theological education to the underserved in our communities at large. Our goal is to be a catalyst in producing well-trained Kingdom servants who are equally well-experienced in mission initiative and church polity. Our school identifies as multicultural, multi-ethnic, multi-denominational with a serious outreach to the immigrant community, minorities and the marginalized within our society. If you identify with the experiences of servanthood and feel the calling of God to expand your territory for the good of the Kingdom, then come and study with us as we seek to do a greater work, and experience a greater Life in Jesus Christ.

Our quality faculty who share the same vision will help you to know Christ through the Word and Spirit. Our collective goal is to come alongside you as you operate in obedience, under the authority of Christ to help you become effective ministers of scholarship, dynamic biblical communicators, and men and women of Spirit and righteous character.

Come and join us here at Southern Reformed College and Seminary. We love the Lord and His salvation work; and strongly desire others to know with blessed assurance that His blood still works, even in times such as these.

In Christ,

Dr. Steve W. Hall,
President

GENERAL INFORMATION

Mission

As an evangelical Christian institution, Southern Reformed College and Seminary exist for the express purpose, through biblical higher education, to train men and women of varied ethnic origins for spiritual development and effective ministry in today's complex society of diverse cultures.

Vision

Our vision is to become a strong, vibrant ministry training center, pulsating within a multi-ethnic, multi-denominational and multi-lingual atmosphere, with a passionate desire to proclaim Christ's Kingdom throughout the nation and beyond.

Core Values

The following core values serve as guiding principles in the fulfillment of our mission to train men and women for Christian leadership and ministry.

1. Gospel-Driven: We value the core message of Jesus Christ, that is, the good news of proclaiming freedom for the prisoners, recovery of sight for the blind, and the freedom for the oppressed both spiritually and physically. Our goal, therefore, is to prepare the future leaders to act justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God. (Luke 4:18; Micah 6:8)
2. City-Positive – We value serving the city with appropriate contextualization by providing relevant messages and methods that are catered to the needs in the urban context. Therefore, our goal is to come alongside the ministries in the city by equipping the people of God with tools that the community themselves initiated. (Jeremiah 29:7; Philippians 2:5-8)
3. Unity in Biblical Diversity – We value multicultural, multiethnic, and multilingual diversity of the city by promoting in our academia unity in Christ while celebrating the multiple ways in which the truth of the Word of God may be expressed in various local contexts . (Deuteronomy 6:4; Revelation 7:9)

Institutional Goals

To fulfill its mission, Southern Reformed College and Seminary is committed to the following goals:

- Biblical Fundamentals - Create in students the recognition of the authority of Scripture and provide them foundational knowledge of the Bible.
- Spiritual Formation - Enhance spiritual development of an integrative spiritual life through the spiritual disciplines and personal prayer life.
- Vocational Fitness - Equip students with the basic knowledge, skills, and attitudes for vocational success, both within and outside the church setting.
- Academic Fortitude - Cultivate within students a lifelong spirit of inquiry and reflective discernment in the quest for knowledge and truth.
- Character Fruition - Increase students' biblical knowledge of moral and ethical standards and encourage a biblical lifestyle.

Denominational Affiliation

Southern Reformed is not affiliated with any denomination. From its very conception, Southern Reformed has identified itself as an evangelical, multi-denominational, independent institution of higher education. While many of our founders embraced a reformed theological position, we openly embrace and seek to serve the wider Christian community within its various denominational expressions of evangelical faith.

We are dedicated to the training of men and women for Christian leadership whether it be in a preaching or teaching setting and is focused generally within a congregational setting for service both nationally and abroad and through a practical knowledge of the Word of God, the equipping for effectively and intelligently presenting the gospel of Christ in various cultural venues.

Accreditation

We are pursuing “candidate status” with the Association of Biblical Higher Education. ABHE is a national accrediting agency, a member of the Council on Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA) and is approved by the United States Department of Education.

The Association of Biblical Higher Education is headquartered at 5850 T.G. Lee Blvd, Ste. 130, Orlando, FL 32822 (407-207-0808). The “Candidate Status is a pre-accredited status granted to those institutions that show promise of achieving accreditation within a maximum of five years.”

Certifications

Southern Reformed College and Seminary has received an exemption from the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board to offer religious certificate, associate's, bachelor's, master's degrees.

Southern Reformed College and Seminary also has received an exemption from the Texas Workforce Commission to offer religious certificate, associate's, bachelor's, master's, and other advanced degrees.

Articulation Agreements: A number of accredited universities and seminaries accept transfer students and credits from Southern Reformed and they are as follows:

Tenets of Faith

While there are many popular cultural aspects of Christianity today, SRCS unapologetically and firmly holds that Jesus Christ is Lord and therefore strongly embrace the historical Christian creeds, apostolic beliefs and openly identify as being children of the Reformation.

We believe that we are saved by grace through faith, and not by good works or spiritual performance. We affirm that the Word of God, as found in the sixty-six books of the Old and New Testament, are initiated by God, inspired by God, and authoritative in all things pertaining to our salvation and its evangelical application to the Christian lifestyle.

We also embrace the whole Church of God and the emergence of its various forms and expressions of God's kingdom throughout the world.

Distinctives

Scriptural Approach

As children of the Reformation, our roots are in the historic Reformed Faith of Luther and Calvin. As such, our desire is to be consistently faithful to the principle of Sola Scriptura, while neither being extremely rationalistic nor overtly experiential in our approach to the Word of God and the Christian life. Thus, our approach to understanding God's Word is by employing the hermeneutic of Scripture Interprets Scripture as we embrace the whole counsel of God.

Relational Approach

In addition, our theological ethos would be best described by the slogan "In Essentials, Unity; In Non-Essentials, Liberty; In All Things, Charity. We are, therefore, committed to speaking the truth in love and carefully balancing theological conviction with Christ-like humility.

Because of these distinctives, Southern Reformed adheres to a broad spectrum of Reformed articulations and practices. The following are some of our heroes of the Reformed Faith:

Jonathan Edwards, a New Light Puritan pastor-theologian who penned Religious Affections during the First Great Awakening, inspiring all his future admirers to strive like him to embrace both manifestations of the Spirit and biblical knowledge.

George Whitefield, a Calvinistic Anglican minister, who co-founded the Methodist movement with the Wesley brothers during the revivals of the Great Awakening by setting an exemplary life of walking in unity for the sake of the gospel while holding firmly to his theological convictions.

Charles Spurgeon, a Reformed Baptist preacher of the 19th Century who strove for the ideal that is often elusive for many, that is, being both intellectually accomplished and open to the power of the Holy Spirit.

Incarnational Approach

Finally, Southern Reformed believes that being truly Reformed entails “Always Reforming” (Semper Reformanda) by biblically applying the Word in today’s context by creating, engaging, redeeming, and transforming culture without accommodating unredeemed or unredeemable worldly practices and philosophies. In order to do this, we are committed to warm, friendly dialogue with all sound ecclesiastical forms and theological systems within the wider evangelical community.

Historical Sketch

Founding members - October 4, 2008

A Vision Realized

A group of men led by the late Rev. Dr. Stephan Y. Lee, saw a need in the Korean-American community for further training in ministry through higher education in Houston, Texas and felt led of God to fill it. Thus, Southern Reformed College and Seminary was birthed with Dr. Stephan Lee as the founding chairman of the board. In rented facilities at the edge of a large Korean population, the school opened its doors on October 4, 2008 with a handful of eager students.

The school grew and then came an unexpected miracle. Through the miraculous hand of God and a very generous gift, a small shopping center was purchased. After being refitted to accommodate the growing school, classes began in the fall of 2011. This easy-to-access location now opened new doors of wider spheres of influence.

Seeing another need, this time in the city's large Spanish-speaking community, classes taught in Spanish began in the spring of 2013. Commencement 2016 celebrated the first Spanish-speaking graduate.

Realizing the need for accreditation by a government recognized national agency, Southern Reformed submitted an application in 2014 to the Association of Biblical Higher Education and in February, 2019 was granted Candidate Status. Southern Reformed now looks forward to soon achieving Full Accreditation Status.

To continue with the mission to provide theological education to the underserved in the community, Urban Program was launched in the fall of 2017 with a handful of English-speaking students with Dr. Steve W. Hall as its first Dean and designation of Bethany Baptist Church SBC as an extension site. It is also hoped that the English program will provide the needed foundation for the international student program with its SEVIS Certification in 2019. The first Urban students graduated in 2021.

It appears that Southern Reformed is well on its way in fulfilling its original dream of becoming a strong ministry training center so as to "spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ through our graduates by preparing them to fulfill the Great Commission and to reproduce the next generation of Christians" with the purchase of a multi-acre campus in Katy, Texas in 2019.

Since the founding, a number of able and godly men have been serving in the leadership.

Unofficial copies are NOT acceptable.

Admissions Policies

Responsibility for determining a candidate's compliance with the requirements for admission and for administering the admissions policy is vested in the Admission Committee, who consults with program directors, the Dean, and individual faculty as needed about particular applications.

Committee Procedures

Admission to Southern Reformed College & Seminary (SRCS) is ongoing throughout the calendar year. Students will be eligible to begin coursework no later than four weeks after accepting an offer of admission from SRCS.

Reasons for denial are not shared with the applicant or anyone outside of the Admissions Committee. When an applicant is denied admission, that person must wait at least one calendar year before reapplying for admission. This policy does not imply any promise for admission in the future. The process of reapplication and re-admission are the same as those for readmission after an absence from studies. A new non-refundable admission fee is charged for the reapplication.

Admissions Process

The Registrar compiles the applicant's academic records, letters of recommendation and personal information. Completed files will be forwarded to the admission committee for application review. Admissions determinations may have the following results:

Full Admission:

Applicant meets all qualifications to be admitted to the academic program that he/she desires to pursue.

Provisional Admission:

Admission documents and/or academic qualifications of the applicant appear to be incomplete or lack full compliance to entry requirements. Such students may be permitted to enroll while they rectify their deficiencies as determined by the Admission Committee.

Conditional Admission:

Admission is granted under certain conditions. The applicant should demonstrate his/her academic capabilities during the first semester of enrollment with a minimum GPA as required by their pursuant degree.

Admission Denied:

Applicants are not admitted to any SRCS program.

Admission Requirements

Undergraduate Programs

Certificates, Associate, and Bachelors, applicants must have an earned high school diploma or its academic equivalent (GED). Non-high school graduates may be admitted based on special admission requirements provided that the student has the ability to benefit from college-level studies. Upon analysis of the student's academic ability, such student may be required (1) to take developmental courses, (2) restricted from certain courses, (3) required to obtain a high school diploma or GED equivalent prior to degree conferral. All students admitted under this category are automatically placed on academic probation and must maintain a 2.0 grade point on a 4.0 scale ("C" average) during the first semester of studies.

Master's Degree Programs

For those desiring to enter into either the Master of Arts in Biblical Studies or Master of Divinity degree programs must have a Bachelor's degree (in any field of study) or its equivalent from an accredited institution recognized by Southern Reformed College and Seminary. Exceptions are rarely granted. Transfer credits may be recognized upon the approval of the Chief Academic Officer (CAO).

International Students

Southern Reformed is certified by Student and Exchange Visitor Program (SEVP) to issue I-20s for F-1 student visas. Students from other countries who hold a high school diploma or a Bachelor's degree or its academic equivalent or higher degree from an approved college or university may study at SRCS as a nonimmigrant F-1 student for each corresponding degree program. In addition to the requirements for admission as previously outlined, the following additional requirements may apply:

1. Students whose native language is either Korean or Spanish are not required to meet basic TOEFL levels.
2. Classes are taught in Korean, Spanish or English. Other languages may be arranged by special request and expense allocations.

3. An affidavit of support is required affirming the support of the applicant while in the USA.

Transfer of Credits

Transfer credit will be considered for acceptance for all regular undergraduate and graduate degrees as approved by the CAO provided the coursework is equivalent to courses that are or could be offered at SRCS and have a grade of “C” (2.0) or higher. A transfer student must complete the final 30 credits at Southern Reformed.

Non-discriminatory Policy

Southern Reformed is a Christian ministry that especially embraces a multi-ethnic and cultural population. SRCS strictly prohibits discrimination of any form on the basis of race, color, national/ethnic origin, age, gender or disability in its administrative and educational policies or activities.

ACADEMICS

Registration

Prior to each semester and before attending any class, students are required to register and arrange for the payment of all tuition and fees. Class registration forms may be secured from the Registrar's Office. SRCS reserves the right to administratively drop students at any time from courses due to non-payment of tuition and fees.

Student Classification

- Undergraduate Students
Those students holding a high school diploma or an earned A.A. degree or equivalent from a recognized institution and working toward a B.A. degree.
- Graduate Students
Those students holding an earned Bachelor's degree or equivalent from a recognized institution and working toward a graduate degree.
- Special Students
Those students taking courses of their own choosing for credit but are not following a regular course of study or pursuing a degree.
- Audit Students
Those students are attending classes but seeking no credit.
- Part-time Students
Those students maintaining academic studies of less than 12 credit hours per semester are considered part-time.
- Full-Time Students
Students with a semester of academic studies of 12 or more credit hours are listed as full-time. However, in order to graduate on-time, undergraduate and Master students should register for at least 15 credits each semester. Any student whose GPA in a previous semester is 3.5 or above may register for up to 21 semester credits with the CAO's approval.

- Undergraduate Classification

A student who is actively pursuing a Bachelor degree is classified by the number of earned credit hours. The student's class standing is based on the number of credit hours successfully completed at the end of each semester. These classifications are as follows:

Freshman	0 – 29 credit hours
Sophomore	30 – 59 credit hours
Junior	60 – 89 credit hours
Senior	90 or more credit hours

- Continuing Education Students

Those enrolled for non-credit courses, seminars, workshops or conferences for the purpose of personal enrichment, spiritual formation for ministry development. These learning activities are not for college or seminary credits and are not part of SRCS' degree or certificate programs. Participants who complete each course or activity will receive a CEU certificate or equivalent.

Adding or Dropping Courses

- New courses may be added up through the fourth week of the beginning of any regular semester.
- Any course dropped within the first 5 weeks of the semester will not be shown on the transcript.
- Any course dropped during the sixth through tenth weeks of the semester will be shown on the transcript as withdrawn (passing) “WP” or withdrawn (failing) “WF.”

- Any course dropped after the first ten weeks of the semester will be recorded as a failure (“F”).

Repeating Courses

If a failing grade is received, the student may retake the course. If the course is retaken, the new grade will be calculated into the student’s grade-point average replacing the failed grade. Both grades, however, will remain on the transcript.

Withdrawal and Leave of Absence

Students wishing to withdraw from the school must submit a written request to the Registrar’s Office. Courses must be officially dropped or a grade of “F” will be entered on the permanent record. In the case of serious illness or other valid reason for withdrawing, the Academic Dean may grant a leave of absence without penalty. Students may return without re-application within one year of the withdrawal.

Auditing

Regularly matriculated students as well as non-degree and certificate seeking students may audit a course. Application to audit must be submitted and an audit fee paid before attending class. Credit is not given for audited courses.

Independent Study

Independent study courses should be viewed as the exception, not the rule and because of special circumstances.

Independent study applications must be approved by the CAO. Only approved faculty members may be assigned to the student.

The student must meet in conference with the assigned instructor a minimum of four times during the course of study for review of assigned work and also must pass a written final exam.

A $50 Independent Study fee per course will be added to the regular tuition charge.

Guided Studies

Guided Study classes are those courses that do not fit in the normal 15-week semester structure and must be arranged and approved by the CAO. A normal Guided Study class will meet for a minimum of 8 weeks and no less than 30 contact hours with the professor and will contain extensive independent study or research assignments and will cover all the materials found in a regular semester course. Guided Study classes are usually formed to accommodate a small number of students. Regular tuition charges apply.

Grading Scale

The following letter grades and grade points are used on all transcripts and grade records.

Grade	Numeric Value	Grade Points
A+	97 –100	4.0
A	94 – 96	4.0
A-	90 – 93	3.7
B+	87 – 89	3.3

B	84 – 86	3.0
B-	80 – 83	2.7
C+	77 – 79	2.3
C	74 – 76	2.0
C-	70 – 73	1.7
D+	67 – 69	1.3
D	64 – 66	1.0
D-	60 – 63	0.7
F	0 – 59	0.0

The notations listed below are not used in calculating grade point averages. No grade points are earned under these designations.

Notation	Description
W	Withdrawal
WA	Administrative Withdrawal
AU	Audit
I	Incomplete*
S	Satisfactory
U	Unsatisfactory
P	Pass (credit is awarded but not calculated in grade point.

*A grade of “I” may be raised to a grade of no higher than “B+” if by the end of the next semester all course requirements have been satisfied. Failure to meet the class requirement will result in a default grade of “F”.

Academic Honors

Semester Academic Honor Roll

The Academic Honor Roll includes students who earn a GPA of 3.3 or higher in 12 semester hours or more in any given semester.

Graduation Honors

Baccalaureate and graduate students are graduated with the appropriate honor designation by earning the following cumulative grade point averages:

Summa cum laude	3.80-4.00
Magna cum laude	3.65-3.79
Cum laude	3.50-3.64

Academic Standing

At the end of each semester, a student's progress will be monitored. To remain in acceptable academic standing, a student must maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.0 for the Bachelor level, 2.5 in the Master level and 3.0 in the Doctorate level.

The school will notify the student in writing, when their cumulative GPA falls below the accepted standard and place the student on academic probation for one semester and will be limited to a course load of 12 credits or fewer. A student failing to attain the minimum GPA during the probationary period may be dismissed from the school. Such academic probation will be recorded on the student's permanent academic record.

If a student raises their cumulative GPA above the minimum requirement during the probation period, he/she will be removed from probation and it will be recorded on the student's academic record.

Probation / Dismissal Appeal

If a student is placed on probation or dismissed for failure to meet academic standards, the student may appeal to CAO for reinstatement. The student must show that there were exceptional circumstances involved and provide evidence indicating that he or she can remove the GPA deficiency within one year.

Class Attendance

Regular classroom attendance is crucial for student success and therefore is required of all resident students. Attendance is recorded for each class session. Excessive unexcused absences (exceeding 2 per semester) provide the basis of failing grade and the possible dismissal from the school. Common courtesy suggests that students confer with the instructor if absence from class becomes necessary. Students absent due to illness or family crises must explain the absence directly to the professor who may or may not waive the absence. In case of an extended medical problem, consideration may be granted by the respective program dean and the CAO.

Semester Structure

SRCS usually operates on a traditional fifteen-week semester (two per school year). The Fall Semester usually starts the last week of August and ends in December. The Spring Semester usually starts the last week of January and ends in May. Some experimental semesters may be divided into "A" and "B" eight week sessions. Summer and Winter sessions may also be offered, usually in a two to four-week intensive format. All courses are equivalent to three semester hours of credit.

Availability of Classes

SRCS does not offer all the courses listed within the catalog each semester or each academic year or at each location. SRCS reserves the right to withdraw any course from its semesters' course offerings due to low enrollment. Other courses may be added at the discretion of the CAO.

Thesis

Bachelor students may elect to write a thesis in their final year of study for 3 credit hours. Check with the respective language Dean pertaining to the required procedure.

Grade Point Average Requirement

In addition to the regulations outlined under each degree program requirements listed in this catalog, a grade point average of 2.0 or above is required for graduation with the bachelor's degree and a 2.5 for master's degrees.

Application for Graduation

Students must file their Graduation Applications and pay their graduation fee no later than February 1 of the graduation year. All financial accounts and documents, files, etc., must be in satisfactory order before a student is permitted to graduate.

Students are expected to be present for the graduation ceremony. Graduation in absentia will be permitted only by special approval of the CAO in response to a written request that cites acceptable reasons.

STUDENT LIFE

Spiritual Life

SRCS seeks to admit students who have a personal relationship with Jesus Christ and is committed to equipping them for effective ministry as they deepen their relationship with God. Each student should be committed to striving to live by the standards set down in Scripture and faithfully participate in his or her local church.

A healthy spiritual life is a daily responsibility and privilege. The spiritual life of a student affects the spiritual life of the total body. Every student is encouraged to give special attention to the following:

1. Regular campus worship attendance
2. Daily prayer and regular Bible reading
3. Developing mature relationships with others
4. Display a positive attitude

Students are required to attend 3 out of 4 convocations/commencements each year to be eligible for graduation.

Student Standard of Conduct

Students at SRCS are called to a high standard of Christian conduct. Christian commitment should result naturally in godly living. However, the biblical doctrine of human nature requires a realistic approach to the question of Christian lifestyle. Faculty, staff and students are expected to abide by the standards and principles found in the Scriptures. While the Scriptures do not provide specific teaching on every aspect of social practice, they do provide general guidelines and advocate self-restraint in that which may be harmful or offensive to others.

Christian Service (Undergraduate)

Since Southern Reformed is uniquely concerned with preparing God's people to become effective leaders in Christian ministry (full-time or lay leaders), all associate and bachelor level students are required to participate in ministry outside of the classroom experience (BA 4 non-credit semester units and AA 2 non-credit semester units).

Just as attorneys, medical doctors and other professionals have internships, those preparing to serve God more effectively should have hands-on experience in Christian service. Jesus provided the model of equipping disciples by including practical ministry as a part of training. This model lets students practice in their field of study as they mature in the Lord. A major goal of this practical training is to help students discover and validate their gifts, talents, abilities and calling from God.

Upon completion of the Christian Service unit, the successful student will:

1. Demonstrate the skills necessary for interpersonal relationships.
2. Examine personal strengths and weaknesses in varied ministry settings
3. Demonstrate the skills necessary for ongoing Christian ministry
4. Exhibit growth in one's spiritual life.

Although it is a requirement for graduation, participation in the Christian Service program is a non-credit function.

Supervised Ministry (Graduate)

Since Southern Reformed is uniquely concerned with preparing God's people to become effective leaders in Christian ministry (full-time or lay leaders), all masters students are required to participate in supervised ministry outside of the classroom experience (2 non-credit semester units).

Just as attorneys, medical doctors and other professionals have internships, those preparing to serve God more effectively should have hands-on experience in Christian service. Jesus provided the model of equipping disciples by including practical ministry as a part of training. This model lets students practice in their field of study as they mature in the Lord. A major goal of this practical training is to help students discover and validate their gifts, talents, abilities and calling from God.

Upon completion of the Supervised Ministry unit, the successful student will:

1. Demonstrate the skills necessary for interpersonal relationships.
2. Examine personal strengths and weaknesses in varied ministry settings.
3. Demonstrate the skills necessary for ongoing Christian ministry.
4. Exhibit growth in one's spiritual life.

Although it is a requirement for graduation, participation in the Supervised Ministry program is a non-credit function.

Academic Integrity

Academic dishonesty is a serious offense which diminishes the quality of scholarship and defrauds those who depend on the integrity of SRCS. Academic integrity is the responsibility of each student. Cheating or plagiarism in connection with an academic program is an offense for which the student may be expelled, suspended, or given a less-severe disciplinary action. The intentional falsification of any information or the use of unauthorized materials or study aids in any academic exercise is strictly forbidden. Plagiarism, intentionally and knowingly representing the works, ideas, or work of another as one's own in any academic exercise, is grounds for immediate dismissal from the school and noted on the student's permanent academic record

Appropriate Use of AI

Copyright Infringement

A copyright protects authors, composers, artists, and other creator's work. Unauthorized distribution of copyrighted material, including unauthorized peer-to-peer sharing, is illegal and exposes the unauthorized user to civil and criminal penalties.

Academic Honesty Code

All students are expected to maintain their personal conduct in a manner above reproach. Therefore, a student is in jeopardy of severe disciplinary action for committing one of the following violations:

Cheating

A student is considered to be cheating if, in the opinion of the person administering the examination/test (written or oral), the student gives, seeks or receives aid during the process of the examination/test; buys, sells, steals, or otherwise possesses or transmits an examination/test without authorization; substitutes for another or permits substitution for himself during an examination/test; or allows others to conduct research or to prepare any work without advance authorization from the instructor. The prohibition includes (but is not limited to) commercial term paper companies and files of past papers.

Fabrication

A student must not intentionally falsify or invent any information or citation in an academic exercise.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is defined as “taking and using as one’s own, the written ideas of another.” A student must not intentionally adopt or reproduce ideas, words, or statements of another person without acknowledgement. Students must give due credit to the originality of others and honestly pay their literary debts and acknowledge indebtedness:

- a) Whenever quoting another person’s actual words.
- b) Whenever using another person’s ideas, opinion, or theory.
- c) Whenever borrowing facts, statistics, or other illustrative material — unless the information is common knowledge.

Interference

A student must not steal, change, destroy, or impede another student’s work. Impeding another student’s work includes (but is not limited to) the theft, defacement, or mutilation of common resources to deprive others of the information they contain.

(Portions of this policy are taken from the Policy on Academic Dishonesty Bloomington Campus of Indiana Seminary, Circular B43-84, p. 31.)

AI Use Statement

Policy Statement:

In addition to the seminary policies on academic misconduct and plagiarism, each course must include a statement on the acceptable use of artificial intelligence (AI). Differences in courses, faculty preferences, and assignments are such that a singular policy will not capture the varied needs of the learning community. For this reason, the seminary has developed a manifold policy that allows faculty to apply it differently in classes and on assignments. Faculty also reserve the right to customize the standard language to meet more specific use cases in their courses. Therefore, the language in this policy is a starting point.

Despite this flexibility, the syllabus in each online course must include a statement on the acceptable use of AI tools. The statement serves as a notice to students that they must approach each assignment with an awareness of how they can engage with AI tools. The statement in the syllabus will require further clarification from faculty in the assignment instructions and as new tools become available. In online courses, the Subject Matter Expert will specify how this applies to each assignment. Instructors should consult with the Subject Matter Expert about applying the policy to assignments differently than what is noted in the syllabus.

Acceptable Use of AI Tools

Each assignment in this course is governed by the guidelines for artificial intelligence (AI) tools. There may be different guidelines for different assignments in this course. Each assignment typically will fall into one of these categories:

1. Full & Documented Use: students may use AI tools for this assignment. Students must include appropriate acknowledgments and documentation in their work according to their instructors' requirements.
2. Limited & Documented Use: students may use AI tools on this assignment in limited ways and with appropriate acknowledgments. Students should document their use of AI according to their instructors' requirements.
3. Forbidden Use: students may not use AI tools on this assignment at any point.

Students should consult the course schedule and the assignment instructions for details about the acceptable use of AI on each assignment. Students are responsible for any errors that the use of AI may introduce into their work. LibGuides provide general guidance for citing the use of AI tools (here is an example); see also the MLA Style Center page and other style guide pages. For course-specific citation requirements, students should contact their online instructor.

Acceptable Use of AI Tools: Assignment Types

1. Full & Documented Use: students may use AI tools for this assignment apart from restrictions. Students must include appropriate acknowledgments and documentation according to their instructors' requirements.
 - a. Assessments: On assessments (such as quizzes, tests, and exams), students may use tools that read their screens, summarize content, or generate content. They must acknowledge and document their use of tools.

b. Writing assignments and presentations: On writing assignments (such as reviews, discussion posts, essays, research papers, etc.) and presentations (such as a speech or presentation), students may use tools that generate content such as outlines, bibliographies, summaries, prose, or creative writing. They must acknowledge and document their use of tools.

c. Artistic or technical productions: On assignments requiring students to produce a design (creative, graphic, visual, technical plans, code, programs), students may use tools that produce all or part of the design on their behalf. They must acknowledge and document their use of tools.

d. Information synthesis assignments: On reading and listening assignments (such as required reading, online discussions, and required lectures), students may use AI tools to summarize audio, video, or textual material to the extent specified by the course instructor and the assignment instructions. They must acknowledge and document their use of tools.

e. Research assignments: When conducting research (whether as a stand-alone assignment or in preparation to distill the research in a writing assignment, presentation, or creative artifact), students may use tools that support their engagement with and evaluation of the information for the study. They must acknowledge and document their use of tools.

2. Limited & Documented Use: students may use AI tools on this assignment in limited ways and with appropriate acknowledgments. Students should document their use of AI according to their instructors' requirements.

a. Assessments: On assessments (such as quizzes, tests, and exams), students may use tools that read their screens, summarize content, or generate content in limited ways specified by the assignment instructions and the course instructor.

b. Writing assignments and presentations: On writing assignments (such as reviews, discussion posts, essays, research papers, etc.) and presentations (such as a speech or presentation), students may use tools that generate content such as outlines, bibliographies, summaries, prose, or creative writing. Use of these tools must include the appropriate acknowledgments and citations, and students must remain within the guidelines specified by the course instructor and the assignment instructions.

c. Artistic or technical productions: On assignments requiring students to produce a design (creative, graphic, visual, technical plans, code, programs), students may use tools that produce all or part of the design on their behalf only to the extent specified by the course instructor and assignment instructions.

d. Information synthesis assignments:

On reading and listening assignments (such as required reading, online discussions, and required lectures), students may use AI tools to summarize audio, video, or textual material to the extent specified by the course instructor and the assignment instructions.

e. Research assignments: When conducting research (whether as a stand-alone assignment or in preparation to distill the research in a writing assignment, presentation, or creative artifact), students may use tools that support their engagement with and evaluation of the information for the research at hand. Use of these tools must involve the appropriate acknowledgments and citations while adhering to the guidelines specified by the course instructor and the assignment instructions.

3. Forbidden Use: students may not use AI tools on this assignment at any point.

a. Assessments: On assessments (such as quizzes, tests, and exams), students may not use tools that read their screens, summarize content, or generate content.

b. Writing assignments and presentations: On writing assignments (such as reviews, discussion posts, essays, research papers, etc.) and presentations (such as a speech or presentation), students may not use tools that generate content such as outlines, bibliographies, summaries, prose, or creative writing. Students may use tools that suggest corrections to spelling and grammar; however, phrasing suggestions of more than a couple of words in tools such as Grammarly might be flagged in AI detection programs.

c. Artistic or technical productions: On assignments requiring students to produce a design (creative, graphic, visual, technical plans, code, programs), students may not use tools that produce all or part of the design on their behalf.

d. Information synthesis assignments: On reading and listening assignments (such as required reading, online discussions, and required lectures), students may not use AI tools to summarize audio, video, or textual material to reduce their academic engagement with the learning activity substantially.

e. Research assignments: When conducting research (whether as a stand-alone assignment or in preparation to distill the research in a writing assignment, presentation, or creative artifact), students may not use tools that substantially reduce engagement with sources and evaluation of the information for the research at hand.

Student Identification

Student identification cards are issued to each matriculated student. This, among other things, provides access to the SRCS library resources.

LIBRARY RESOURCES

Mission Statement

The goal of the Southern Reformed College & Seminary library is to select, maintain, and provide to our students, faculty and staff access to information resources, study space, reference assistance, and bibliographic instruction which support the mission³ of SRCS and that support the curricula of the degree plans at SRCS.

³ Our vision is to become a strong, vibrant ministry training center, pulsating within a multi-ethnic, multi-denominational and multi-lingual atmosphere, with a passionate desire to proclaim Christ’s Kingdom throughout the nation and beyond.

Access

The SRCS library provides access by purchasing resources (both print and electronic), maintaining an on-site Interlibrary Loan program through the Houston Graduate School of Theology and the College of Biblical Studies libraries, and encouraging students and faculty to access TexShare databases, which are available to all Texas residents who hold a valid Texas public library card. In addition, SRCS students and faculty are encouraged to take advantage of Interlibrary Loan programs at their local public library branch for obtaining print items which the SRCS Library does not own. SRCS faculty and students may access (on-site only) the resources of the following theological libraries: Cardinal Beran Library at the University of St. Thomas, Library of the Presbytery of the New Covenant, and the Lanier Theological Library. Electronic theological books, through the eBook Lending Program, can be accessed via American Theological Library Association (ATLA), of which SRCS is an institutional member. SRCS alumni and pastors in the community are welcome to use the SRCS library, and may obtain check-out privileges by joining the Friends of the SRCS Library with no annual membership fee.

Resource Types

1. Books: The core of the SRCS library collection consists of printed books, including reference books and general circulation books (hardback and paperback). Also included in this grouping are bound copies of SRCS dissertation projects.

a. Faculty author: The library also collects items including books or parts thereof that are written by members of the SRCS faculty. Such items are often donated but may be purchased.

b. Alumnus author: The library also includes books or parts thereof that are written by SRCS alumni. Such items are often donated but may be purchased.

2. Periodicals: The library provides access to journals primarily through electronic journals databases such as ATLASerials (available to SRCS students by means of a username and password) and TexShare databases (available to all public library card holders). The library also maintains a small collection of Korean and English print journals that are requested by subject faculty if the budget allows.

3. Theses/Projects: The library receives one bound copy of each dissertation/project produced at SRCS. Those projects are shelved in the Reference collection

4. Music: The library does not currently collect printed music or scores, though a small representative collection of hymnals is maintained.

5. Maps: The library does not collect maps, with the exception of recently published atlases, especially of biblical lands.

6. Children's Materials: The library does not purchase materials designed for use by children.

Languages

1. Korean & English: English and Korean language materials are the major focus of the library collection.

2. Biblical Languages: Materials which assist in the learning of biblical languages (biblical Greek and Hebrew) are collected.

3. Other languages:

a. Spanish: Spanish translations of select works important to seminary education are collected. Spanish language works of general history, geography, or literature are not retained.

b. Other modern foreign languages: materials and translations of works in other modern foreign languages are not retained in the library, with the exception of a small collection of foreign language dictionaries in the reference section.

Formats

1. Print: Print resources are the primary format collected by the SRCS library. In many cases, due to cost savings, paperback books are preferred over hardback. Occasionally, used books in very good condition may be ordered if they offer significant savings.

2. Electronic: In general, if a requested book title is available in the current SRCS library e-book collection, unless specifically requested by the professor, a print copy of the book may not be purchased. The library makes a special effort to purchase reasonably priced, subject sets of e-books, such as those periodically offered by the Christian Library Consortium and various other subject related e-book providers.

Public Domain ebooks: Most books published prior to 1923, or those otherwise not covered by the U.S. Copyright Law, are freely available in full-text from an online resource such as Google Books, Project Gutenberg or HathiTrust. The catalog record will include an Internet link enabling a patron to read or download that item directly from our online public catalog (OPAC).

3. E-book Reader format: The SRCS library purchases ebooks through ATLA's eBook Lending Program.

Subjects or Areas Intentionally Not Collected

The SRCS Library does not collect materials which are unrelated to seminary, other than the general education courses offered, such as popular or literary fiction in any language, poetry, music scores, general biographies, government documents, technical manuals, phonograph recordings, and audio or VHS tapes. Neither does the Library collect general magazines and issues of journals, which are available full-text via ATLASerials database or, as in the case of counseling resources, via TexShare databases. Information concerning collection intensity by topic is included in Appendix 2 of this document.

Commented [1]: We should include student services such as the virtual writing center.

CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

Christian Counseling Emphasis

The Certificate of Christian Counseling (CCC) emphasis is a 30-credit hour program for Christian leaders who desire a basic knowledge of Christian counseling methods and skills with the tool of fine art in the ministry situations to help those who are in need of healing and restoration. This Certificate program is designed for Sunday School teachers, small group leaders, elders, deacons and other church workers who may not be considering full-time Christian ministry. A high school diploma is required unless otherwise exempted by CAO.

Program Objectives

1. Scriptural Competence: Having a general knowledge of the Bible, psychology, counseling methodology, and fine art to support their biblical views.
2. Spiritual Maturity: Growing in the likeness of Christ as agents of God's love toward others as they give evidence of God's Spirit working in their lives.
3. Passion of the Gospel: Effectively communicate the Gospel through leadership and teaching in the local church and other ministries.
4. Academic Excellence: Equipping students with Christian counseling methods and skills with the tool of fine art in the ministry situation to help those who are in need of healing and restoration.
5. Personal & Relational Growth: Training individuals and groups to sincerely follow after Jesus Christ by focusing on the healing of their heart change, and their relationship problems and focusing on how the past impacts the present, which allows for some forecasting of the future.

Course Roadmap

The CCC requires 30 credits. There are 3 required counseling core courses and 2 fine arts courses in addition to 2 theology courses. The student must also complete 3 elective courses to complete the program.

ASSOCIATE OF ARTS

Ministry Concentration

Associate of Arts in Ministry (AAM) is a 60-hour degree program designed for lay leaders and ministry support personnel in the church and parachurch organizations that require only fundamental biblical studies. Credits earned in this program may be applied to and considered as the first two years of a Bachelor of Arts in Biblical Studies degree.

Program Objectives

1. Scriptural Competence: Helping students understand a variety of literary types, categorize the literary forms of biblical books, and know the foundational principles of inductive Bible interpretation.

CON 820 Crisis Ministry and Clergy Self-Care (3 credits)

The nature of human suffering, the problem of theodicy, the meaning of pain, the mystery of healing, and the discovery of hope will be theological and experiential themes central to the course. Grief, pain, loss, separation, death and dying--the major crises of life--will be explored experientially, psychologically, and culturally. The course will also enable students to create and maintain a self-care plan as a tool to embrace ministry with resilience.

CON 830 Recovery Ministry in Local Churches (3 credits)

This course will examine the theological foundations of recovery ministry as well as the personal dynamics of recovery and practical considerations for developing recovery ministries in the local church.

MINISTRY

PAM 501 Spiritual Formation Development

An introduction to the theological basis of pastoral care, as well as the nature and dynamics of human personality and contemporary psychosocial models of helping, healing, and change.

PAM 680 Legal Issues in Ministry

A Study of the basic constitutional history and practice regarding religion in the United States, the original related decisions of the Supreme Court, the administration (taxation) of ministers, and issues of the relationship between the church and the present multicultural society.

PAM 720 Leadership in the Financial Development of the Local Church

A study of the theological, ethical, and practical basis for Christian stewardship, and how this relates to effective church leadership. Attention will be given to strategies and resources for congregational and individual stewardship, financial planning, and mission, along with aspects of how individuals and congregations perceive money matters and act upon those perceptions.

PAM 730 Principles & Strategies for Church Planting

An examination of the biblical, historical, sociological, and theological principles particular to church planting. Emphasis will be given to methods and strategies faithful to biblical principles and effective in producing new, healthy churches.

PAM 740 Technology in Ministry

A study of the way computers, audio-visual equipment, and other techno-logical tools can be used effectively in church ministry. Offers hands-on experience to enhance the work of research, study, preaching, teaching, counseling, evangelism, ministerial recordkeeping and church administration.

PAM 770 Conflict Resolution in the Local Church

A study of conflict resolution within a parochial and/or congregational setting, focusing on mediation principles and techniques for pastors and other church professionals and leaders.

PAM 780 Principles & Strategies for Church Growth

A study of the foundational principles and strategies of ministry renewal and congregational revitalization that facilitate both qualitative and quantitative church growth. Emphasis will be placed on congregational application.

PAM 790 Art Counseling

This introductory course bases the foundation that the healing comes from the forgiveness of our sins by God and each other. Through various creative processes of art making, the course is designed to improve the mental and emotional well-being and the spiritual healing of individuals.

PAM 799 Art & Ministry

An introduction to Christian engagement with visual culture- no arts background necessary, though students will have varying levels of experience in the arts. The main goal is to integrate theological and aesthetic reflection into the practices of making and enjoying art as well as how to utilize art in various ministry settings. The three main areas of studies are: (1) Art, History, and Theology, (2) Art and Worship, (3) Art and Ministry.

MISSIONS / EVANGELISM

APO 500 Christian Apologetics

The course will seek to formulate the rational basis for believing in Christian theism, with responses to objections and critiques of competing worldviews.

APO 600 Cults and Worldviews

This course aims to help acquaint Christian leaders with several of the major religious groups that one will likely encounter from time to time. The first objective is to expose the students to the major issues on each group: origin, founder, major viewpoints, and major theological deviations. A second objective that is tied to the primary objective is to build upon the biblical knowledge of the student and to provide a systematic understanding of key biblical principles regarding the Gospel message.

CUL 620 Culture and Context

An examination of the steps necessary to analyze and understand the culture and context in which a ministry operates, from an indigenous tribe in the Amazon to a generational group in Houston. Attention is given to observing the environment, language, media, popular culture, identities, traditions, economics, values, and religious views of a particular group, with a view toward critical engagement with the gospel, through word and deed.

EVA 520 / MIS 520 History & Theology of Evangelism & Missions

A study of the expansion of Christianity from the patristic period to the modern era with emphasis on the scriptural and theological understandings of the ministry of evangelism through the church, both personal and pulpit as well as its implications for world missions.

EVA 731 Evangelism an Urban Setting

A study of the theology, ecclesiology, and methodology of evangelism and discipleship in urban settings. This will encompass a broad look at the urban Christian witness from evangelistic preaching to community development strategies.

MIS 600 Introduction to Missions

An introduction to the place of missions and evangelism in the life and practice of the Church from a biblical, historical, methodological, and contemporary development perspective. This course will also consider ways in which the missionary and evangelism programs of the local church can be improved and organized effectively for their tasks.

MIS 602 Cross Cultural Communication of the Gospel

A study of the principles and processes of communication from one culture to another, with focus on the incarnation of Jesus as the model for intercultural communication of the gospel and on contemporary models of communications theory.

MIS 685 Selected Topics in Missional Evangelism

A study of selected topics in Evangelism and Missions. The topics vary from term to term to focus on selected aspects of this broad area of Christian ministry. This course may be repeated for credit with a change in content.

MIS 780 Missions Practicum

For students who have completed the basic courses in missions. They may enroll in a practicum work under the supervision of a missions and/or evangelistic setting at an advanced level, including supervision of the work of other persons.

MIS 790 Independent Research in Missions

For students who have completed the basic courses and have the ability to do independent study in missions or evangelism. By special arrangement.

APO 750/MIS 795/EVA 770 Selected Topics in Apologetic, Missions, or Evangelism

WORSHIP

WOR 510 Christian Worship

An introduction to the nature, elements, and purpose of Christian worship from biblical, theological, and historical perspectives. Attention will be given to exploring liturgical forms for both regular and occasional services of the church, used by various Christian traditions. Emphasis will be placed on the development of leadership skills for the preparation and celebration of the worship event.

WOR 520 History of Christian Worship

A survey of Christian worship in its various contexts from the patristic age to the modern era with an emphasis on how scriptural and theological principles and contextual factors guided the development of Christian worship down to modern times.

WOR 630 Early Christian Worship

A study of worship in the early church utilizing primary sources from the patristic era. Jewish precursors to Christian worship will be explored, along with the origins of the Christian calendar, early initiation rites, table fellowship, cycles of daily prayer, and rites of pastoral care.

WOR 640 Western Worship Traditions

A study of the primary liturgical families of the Western Church—Roman, Lutheran, Reformed, Anglican, and Anabaptist—along with a survey of their descendent traditions, including Puritanism, the Wesleyan-Holiness tradition, American Frontier traditions, African American worship, and the Pentecostal and charismatic movements.

WOR 685 Selected Topics in Christian Worship

A study of selected topics in Christian worship and liturgy. The topics vary from term to term to focus on selected aspects of the liturgical life of the Church. This course may be repeated for credit with a change in content.

WOR 740 Worship and Sacraments

A study of the theory, method, tools, and ritual components of liturgical and sacramental worship, particularly as it relates to the corporate life of the local parish as an expression of theology, catholicity, and mission. Prerequisite WOR 510 or WOR 520.

WOR 750 Contemporary Worship

A study of selected contemporary forms and styles of Christian worship, such as those associated with the Willow Creek model, the Vineyard movement, and the Emerging Church movement. May be repeated for credit with a change in content. Prerequisite WOR 510 or WOR 520.

WOR 780 Worship Practicum

For students who have completed the basic courses in worship sequence. They may complete a practicum under the supervision in the planning and leading of worship at an advanced level, including the incorporation and facilitation of the work of other professional and lay worship leaders. Prerequisite WOR 510 or WOR 520.

WOR 790 Selected Topics in Worship
