PREFACE

HISTORY

A group of men, led by the late Rev. Dr. Stephan Y. Lee, saw a need within the Houston Korean-American community for further training in ministry through higher education and felt directed by God to fill it. Thus, Southern Reformed Theological College and Seminary was birthed (name shortened in 2016).

The first academic year began in the fall of 2008 in an aging, out of the way facility (10067 Timberoak Drive) with a small group of eager students and a handful of excited instructors. Classes were held there until the unexpected happened. Through the miraculous hand of God and a large, unsolicited gift from an extremely generous donor, the school was able to purchase a small shopping center near the convergence of three major freeways for its present Northwest Houston location (4740 Dacoma Street).

Houston's vast Spanish-speaking population gave impetus to enlarge the school's vision of not only being multi-denominational serving just the Korean community, but to enlarge its scope into being a multi-ethnic and multi-lingual institution of higher Biblical education. Classes taught in Spanish began in the spring of 2013 and the Commencement of 2016 celebrated the first Spanish-speaking graduate.

Realizing the need for accreditation by a government recognized national agency, Southern Reformed submitted an application to the Association of Biblical Higher Education. In February 2014, Applicant Status was granted. We have achieved the Candidate Status in February 2019.

To continue with the mission to provide theological education to the underserved in the community, the Urban Program was launched in the fall of 2017 with a handful of English-speaking students. It is expected that the English program will provide the needed foundation for the international student program in the near future.

Over the ensuing years, Southern Reformed has been served by three (3) presidents: Four years by founding president, Dr. Samuel (Sung Moon) Kim (2008-2012), Dr. Terrance (Terry) Curtis (2012-2016), and Dr. James A. Lee since August 2016.

It appears that Southern Reformed is well on its way in fulfilling its original dream of becoming a strong ministry training center so as to “spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ through our graduates by preparing them to fulfill the Great Commission and to reproduce the next generation of Christians.”

DECLARATION

Mission

As an evangelical Christian institution, Southern Reformed College and Seminary exist for the express purpose, through biblical higher education, to train men and woman of varied ethnic origins for spiritual development and effective ministry in today's complex society of diverse cultures.

Vision

Our vision is to become a strong, vibrant ministry training center, pulsating within a multi-ethnic, multi-denominational and multi-lingual atmosphere, with a passionate desire to proclaim Christ's Kingdom throughout the nation and beyond.

CORE VALUES

The following core values serve as guiding principles in the fulfillment of our mission to train men and women for Christian leadership and ministry.

1. Student Learning

We believe in a quality education based on the inspired truth of Scripture that includes general, Biblical and ministry studies. This involves the acquisition of knowledge, practical skills and experience.

2. Student Personal Development

We believe that Biblical higher education involves the development of the whole person. We therefore seek to stimulate mental, physical, and spiritual growth that results in Christian maturity.

3. Kingdom Service

We believe that Biblical higher education involves the development of the whole person. We therefore desire that the education received at Southern Reformed College and Seminary enable every student to impact the world for Christ primarily in vocational ministry both in profession and volunteer venues.

INSTITUTIONAL GOALS

To fulfill its mission, Southern Reformed College and Seminary is committed to the following goals:

- Create in students the recognition of the authority of Scripture and provide them foundational knowledge of the Bible;
- Provide instruction for personal and professional development within an evangelical Christian environment;
Enhance spiritual development of an integrative spiritual life through the spiritual disciplines and personal prayer life.
- Equip students with the basic knowledge, skills, and attitudes for vocational success, both within or outside the church setting;
- Cultivate within students a lifelong spirit of inquiry and reflective discernment in the quest for knowledge and truth;
- Increase students' biblical knowledge of moral and ethical standards and encourage a biblical lifestyle;

DENOMINATIONAL AFFILIATION

Southern Reformed is not affiliated with any denomination. From its very conception, Southern Reformed has identified itself as an evangelical, multi-denominational, independent institution of higher education. While many of our founders embraced a reformed theological position, we openly embrace and seek to serve the wider Christian community within its various denominational expressions of evangelical faith.

We are dedicated to the training of men and women for Christian leadership whether it be in a preaching or teaching setting and is focused generally within a congregational setting for service both nationally and abroad and through a practical knowledge of the Word of God, the equipping for effectively and intelligently presenting the gospel of Christ in various cultural venues.

ACCREDITATION

Southern Reformed College and Seminary holds the Candidate Status with the Association for Biblical Higher Education Commission on Accreditation, 5850 T. G. Lee Blvd., Ste. 130, Orlando, FL 32822, (407) 207-0808. The ABHE is one of the four national faith-related accrediting organizations for religious schools and seminaries that are recognized by the United States Department of Education (USDE) and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA).

INSTITUTIONAL POLICIES

Campus Gun Policy

The safety and well-being of our students are of utmost importance at Southern Reformed college and Seminary. After consultation with the administrative staff, faculty and student advisory senate, the Board of Trustees at their December 2016 meeting voted, in accordance the state law that permits private institutions of higher learning to opt out of the Texas campus carry law, to be a weapon-free institution and thereby prohibit all firearms from the campus grounds, buildings and related school activities.

Drug, Alcohol, Smoking Free Campus

In accordance to the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act of 1989 (Public Law 101-226, Section 22) Southern Reformed is in compliance with Government Code Section 8355 in declaring all of its facilities as Drug, Alcohol and Smoke free.

Any student, faculty, employee or visitor who is found under the influence of illicit drugs or alcohol while on Southern Reformed property, or who is in unlawful possession of, using, or distributing an illicit drug, alcohol or smoking on such property or as part of any of its activities, will be expelled immediately from the facility campus and must appeal, in writing to the President for reinstatement.

Southern Reformed is committed to observe all City of Houston, State of Texas, and United States federal laws and sanctions for the unlawful possession or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol. If there is a violation of any applicable policy or sanction, law enforcement authorities may be called for the appropriate action. Charges resulting from violation of local, state, and federal laws could range from misdemeanor punishment to felony charges; this could result in fines or confinement in jail.

Non-discrimination Policy

Based on the historic commitment to Biblical principle (“There is neither Jew nor Greek, slave nor free, male, nor female...” Galatians 3:28), Southern Reformed College and Seminary is a nondiscriminatory institution in all policies, programs and practices. Southern Reformed College and Seminary freely admits students of any race, color, and national or ethnic origin and grants all the rights, privileges, programs and activities generally made available to all other students of the institution. It does not discriminate on the basis of gender, race, physical handicap, national or ethnic origin in administration of educational programs, admissions, employment practices, athletics, or other activities and actively seeks to fulfill federal, state, and local laws and regulations in all its practices and facilities.

Further, the use of sexist, religious, or racial epithets or any other derogatory statement or conduct based upon a person’s race, national origin, religion, age, sex, handicap, or veteran status will not be tolerated. All faculty members, staff, and students are entitled to equal treatment, respect, and dignity.

Security Policy

Southern Reformed College and Seminary will make reasonable efforts to provide a safe and healthy educational and working environment for all employees, students and others who may utilize the school's facilities and grounds. All staff will implement safety policies and procedures that promote an injury free environment.

Anyone engaged in related activities must exercise personal responsibility and care to prevent injury and illness to themselves and others who may be affected by their acts or omissions. No person shall intentionally interfere with or misuse anything provided by Southern Reformed College and Seminary in the interests of health and safety.

In compliance with the Clery Act, Southern Reformed College and Seminary, upon participating in federal financial aid programs, will be required to distribute to all students, employees, and applicants two types of information: 1) a description of policies related to campus security and 2) campus crime statistics.

Victims or witnesses of crime may report the incident to any of the school's administration or faculty. They may file a confidential report and receive counseling and if needed, medical treatment. They may also contact the local police and pursue prosecution through the law enforcement agencies. They also have the right to refuse any of these options. Anyone who reports violations of the Clery Act is protected from retaliation, threats, or discrimination by any employee of the school.

Sexual Conduct

Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, and the federal regulations adopted under that act, prohibit sexual harassment in the employment setting. Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex, including sexual harassment, in any educational programs and activities of educational institutions that receive federal funding. Students and employees are covered by Title IX.

Southern Reformed affirms that all persons, male and female, are created in the image of God, and therefore deserve to be treated with respect, honor and love. Jesus Christ provides the supreme model for Christian relationships, treating others with love and purity. Sexuality is a good gift of God that enhances the whole of life, yet Scripture expressly limits the expression of sexual intimacy to heterosexual, monogamous marriage. Violation of marriage vows by unfaithfulness or unbiblical divorce displeases God and damages others. Sexual intimacy outside marriage violates God's standards, as may words, attitudes, and thoughts (e.g., pornography); therefore, Sexual harassment is sin, and one that is viewed in society as discrimination prohibited by federal law. These offenses will be viewed as serious and will be subject to appropriate disciplinary and other measures.

Sexual misconduct or harassment allegations will be treated as any other allegation of serious misconduct. Complaints will be investigated immediately and thoroughly. If it is determined that sexual misconduct or harassment has occurred, prompt and appropriate disciplinary action will be taken, up to and including termination (of an employee) and/or expulsion (of a student). The Seminary will not retaliate or permit retaliation (including termination of employment) for bringing an allegation of sexual harassment or misconduct in good faith (i.e., not frivolously, maliciously, or with vengeful intent).

Definitions

Sexual misconduct includes any violation of scriptural standards for sexual behavior, whether single or married. Examples include, but are not limited to:

1. Physical sexual activity with and/or deep emotional attachment to a person other than one's legitimate spouse.
2. Intimate sexual activity by unmarried persons.
3. Sexual abuse of children.
4. Unbiblical separation or divorce and/or remarriage.
5. Collection, viewing, or use of pornography.
6. Homosexual sexual activity.
7. Sexual harassment.

Sexual harassment includes any form of unwelcome or nonconsensual sexual advance, request for sexual favors, or other verbal or physical contact of a sexual nature, when:

(1) submission to such conduct is made explicitly or implicitly a condition of employment or academic standing;

(2) submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as the basis for employment decisions or for academic evaluation, grades, or advancement; or

(3) such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working or learning environment. It may include, but is not limited to:

1. Jokes, comments, verbal "kidding," or abuse that is sexually oriented.
2. Suggestive, inappropriate, or graphic comments about a person's body, appearance, or actions.
3. Sexually suggestive gestures or actions, including physical actions such as patting, pinching, constant brushing against another's body, or blocking another's movement.
4. Subtle pressure for sexual activity or demands for sexual favors, whether or not accompanied by promise of reward or threat of punishment.
5. Sexual assault and/or rape.
6. Unwanted or inappropriate physical touching that makes the person uncomfortable.
7. Condoning any of the above.

Sexual assault is defined as harmful or threatening behavior manifested in the form of physical contact and non-physical behavior (verbal threats, intimidations, and/or indecent exposure.)

Rape occurs when a person engages in non-consensual sexual intercourse caused by physical force, threat or coercion, implied or actual. Non-consensual sexual intercourse happens when someone says “no” or is unable to consent to sexual intercourse because he/she is mentally incapacitated, physically helpless due to drug, alcohol consumption, unconscious or asleep.

Acquaintance rape occurs in situations where parties know one another and one known individual forces the other to enter into sexual activity despite objections or reservations.

GENERAL ITEMS

Change of Personal Information

If a faculty member changes his or her address, telephone number or name, the Chief Academic Officer (CAO) should be notified immediately. Every employee of Southern Reformed is required to give a phone number at which he or she can be reached.

Confidential Matters

In compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), Southern Reformed faculty will keep all student information confidential, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

Disciplinary Policy

Faculty members who do not respond to the positive approach of the performance evaluation program or who willfully violate Southern Reformed rules may be subject to disciplinary action by the CAO. The purpose of such discipline is to improve performance, efficiency, and morale. The disciplinary measures (in ascending order of severity) are:

Verbal Reprimand: A verbal reprimand is a warning that a faculty member has violated a regulation or has been negligent in some aspect of work performance. Verbal reprimands shall be made in a constructive way so the faculty member is aware of the offense and the consequences for repeating the offense. There should be an avoidance of issuing a verbal reprimand in the presence of the faculty member's co-workers. Although the reprimand itself is verbal, the CAO and supervising Dean shall maintain a brief written record of the action.

Written Reprimand: This action is a written warning to a faculty member who has failed to respond appropriately to a verbal reprimand or who has committed an offense requiring more severe action than a verbal reprimand. A copy of the written reprimand shall be given to the faculty member and another copy shall be retained in the faculty member's personnel file.

Dismissal: A faculty member may be terminated from employment with Southern Reformed when other disciplinary actions have proven ineffective or when the seriousness of any individual offense requires such action. Every dismissal of a faculty member must be approved, in advance, by the President. A written report of a dismissal shall be prepared by the CAO and maintained permanently in the faculty member's personnel file. An individual who has been dismissed from employment with Southern Reformed as a disciplinary action may file a formal grievance with the President. This type of grievance must be filed within 30 days from the date of termination. See Faculty Grievances and Appeals in the Faculty Rights section for additional procedural instructions.

Elimination or Reduction in Work Force

Southern Reformed at times need to reduce its workforce and therefore may eliminate administration and staff positions. Competition for retention is limited to faculty members holding similar positions, and selection will be based first on performance and secondly, if necessary, seniority of service.

Email as Official Means of Communication

Reliable, timely communication is essential to success, and Southern Reformed has the right to expect faculty members to do their best to keep two-way lines of communication open and functioning well. Therefore, the official form of communication between Southern Reformed and its faculty, including adjuncts, will be email. Regular reading of and timely response to Southern Reformed emails will be expected. Failure to comply may adversely affect employment relationships with the school.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Southern Reformed provides equal opportunity to all faculty members in such areas as hiring, placement, transfers, promotions, termination, working conditions, disciplinary measures, and compensation. All decisions regarding these activities will be made without discrimination on grounds of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, physical handicap, political affiliation, or other factors that cannot lawfully be used as the basis of employment (Fair Labor Standards Act).

Facility Keys

All keys to SOUTHERN REFORMED facilities are to be obtained through the Chief Operations Officer (COO).

Under no circumstances are faculty members to make copies of keys. Transfer of keys from one person to another must be made through the COO office so as to keep records in order. Keys are a trust that each person should carefully guarded. The security of Southern Reformed building, property, equipment, and records depends on strict control of keys. A lockbox containing various room keys is located near the main entrance of the facility. The code to this box may be secured from the COO.

Financial Exigency

Financial exigency is declared by the Board of Trustees and is understood to mean an urgent need to reorder the nature and magnitude of the institution's financial obligations in such a way as to restore or preserve the institution's financial stability. In all cases of termination of appointment because of financial exigency, the position of the terminated faculty member will not be filled until financial exigency is lifted by Board of Trustees.

Jury Duty

A faculty member called for jury duty will normally be given time off without penalty.

Photocopying and Copyright Restrictions

An instructor may copy limited materials for in-class use (1 copy per student) per class session or for personal use in scholarship research. The following is the actual text the U.S. Copyright Office has authorized for institutional use and is posted in the library and copy room.

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be “used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research.” If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of “fair use,” that user may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

Purchases

All purchases relating to Southern Reformed are to be approved in advance by the President and, if required, a Purchase Order number must be obtained. Purchases or charges made without prior authorization will be the responsibility of the individual making them.

Resignations

A faculty member who resigns shall be terminated in good standing if reasonable notice to the CAO or respective Dean is given and if other circumstances of termination are such as to justify good standing. A resignation letter must be written, stating the effective date and reasons for leaving at least two (2) weeks before leaving. This is a courtesy so that there will time to find a replacement to fill the vacancy. Faculty Members with specific contract obligations are expected to fulfill all contractual obligations.

Student / Faculty Relationships

Relationships, between students and their teachers, advisors, and others holding positions of authority over them, should be conducted in a manner that avoids potential conflicts of interest, exploitation, or personal bias. Given the inherent power differential, the possibility of intentional or unintentional abuse of that power should always be borne in mind. For example, a conflict of interest arises when an individual evaluates the work or performance of a person with whom he or she is engaged in a romantic or sexual relationship.

Romantic or sexual relationships between students and persons in positions of authority compromise the relationship between students and the seminary. No faculty or staff member should be romantically or sexually involved with a current SRCS student.

In the case of a student complaint of sexual harassment or inappropriate relational contact with an employee, the follow steps will be taken:

The appropriate Dean, President, or a designated representative will investigate the incident, including meeting with the student and other involved party or parties. If the incident can be resolved to the satisfaction of all parties, the incident will be considered concluded.

If the incident is not resolved, a sexual harassment grievance committee will be convened to investigate and recommend a satisfactory solution. The committee, appointed by the President, should include at least one member from the following groups:

- Board of Trustees
- Administration
- Faculty
- Student Body

The committee will gather all necessary evidence and make one of the following recommendations.

- Dismissal of charge because of insufficient evidence.
- Recommendation of disciplinary action against the accused, which may include dismissal, a period of probation, or official reprimand, following the general guidelines for disciplinary actions in this manual. In an extreme situation, the committee may recommend legal action by the complainant.

Either party may appeal the decision of the committee to the Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees may choose the course of action that they deem appropriate. The decision of the Board of Trustees will be final.

FACULTY EXPECTATIONS

Attendance and Teaching Responsibilities

All faculty members at Southern Reformed, regardless of rank or status, are expected to provide high quality classroom instruction for our students, as well as academic and spiritual guidance outside of the classroom setting. Therefore, anyone employed to teach classes at Southern Reformed is expected to attend and conduct class sessions in accordance with the Catalog description and the approved calendar for that academic term. If a faculty member must be absent from a scheduled class (or will be late), he or she should contact the CAO or their respective Dean as soon as the issue arises.

In rare cases, an instructor may desire to have visiting experts or lecturers in the classroom. Instructors should receive prior approval for any non-Southern Reformed employee to participate in a class setting, whether through lecture, questions and answers, or presentations. Such approval must be received from the CAO prior to making any such arrangements with outside personnel.

Students enrolled in a three-credit-hour class should receive the equivalent of three “contact hours” (50 minutes equals 1 contact hour) of instruction per week (45 total per semester). In courses taught with an alternative delivery system, the frequency and amount of classroom instruction per week may vary, but, in every case, the aggregate total will equal that of a regularly scheduled course. Any deviation from this schedule of instruction must be approved in writing in advance by both the respective Dean and the CAO.

Attendance at Official Functions

Unless excused by the President or the CAO, faculty members are expected to attend all official seminary academic functions, including but not limited to semester opening and closing convocations, special lectures, and annual commencement.

Contribution to the life of the Church

- Positive attitude toward the ministry and the work of the Church of Jesus Christ
- Significant personal involvement in the life of a local church
- Ability to encourage and inspire students to have a healthy regard for the Church.

Having completed a syllabus for a course, it must be returned to the Academic Dean no later than three weeks prior to the beginning of the semester. The Academic Dean will contact the faculty with approval or request for revisions before the beginning of the semester.

Faculty members are required to prepare a written syllabus for each course offered. A copy of the syllabus shall be given to each student at the first class session. A digital and a printed copy of each syllabus shall be forwarded to the CAO normally no later than one month (4 weeks) prior to the beginning of the semester. The syllabus must be produced in accordance with the Southern Reformed syllabus form and must include the following data:

- Instructor's name and contact information

- Measurable expected course outcomes
 - Each outcome must be measurable through tests, papers, projects, etc. during the course.
 - A course must have at least three course learning outcome that meet the requirements of the program outcomes.
 - A general education course must have at least one Course Learning Outcome that meets the requirements of the program outcomes.
- Requirements of the course, e.g., readings, projects, term papers, exams and other items that assess the outcomes and as detailed as possible
- Basis of evaluation for the course indicating weight to be given for each component

Syllabus Development

The faculty must write a syllabus that includes the following rigor requirements to complete the class:

Academic Rigor

Levels	Papers	Reading	Admissions	Grades	Critical Thinking
Certificate	Essays and reflection papers only.	No more than 300 pages a course (3 units) outside of class.

Credit Hour

SRCS usually offers 3-unit semester courses. A unit of measure representing the traditional academic value of learning activities. A semester credit hour represents a minimum of 50 minutes of instruction per week over a 15-week period, supplemented by two hours of preparation for each hour of instruction for the average student; or the equivalent amount of time (37.5 hours) in instructor designated learning activities. Time for final examinations is outside these specifications. If the 3-unit semester course meets once a week, the lecture must be one hundred fifty minutes or two hours and thirty minutes long.

The instructor-designated learning activities include the following (37 & ½ hours):

There also must be two hours of preparation time by the students for every one hour of lecture, which includes the following (75 hours):

1. Reading

2. Research

3. Writing

Rigor Calculation Index

The faculty is expected to calculate the rigor of each course based on the following index of length per unit:

Index of Length/Unit

Activity	Unit/Prep Hour	Note
Reading	10 pages/hr; 15/hr G	UG College / G Seminary
Papers	1/2 page/hr; 1/hr G
Reports	1/2 page/hr; 1/hr G
Exams	.1 hr exam/hr	Midterms 1 hr / Finals 2 hrs

Faculty Accountability Policy

As teachers of current and future gospel ministers, the Bible instructs professors to be above reproach in all matters pertaining to faith and practice (I Timothy 3:2). Therefore, the following policy has been drafted to aid the faculty in being exemplary servants in integrity and transparency before God and his people.

1. Conflict of Interest - Teaching the following groups of people would be considered within the bounds of what is considered conflict of interest
 - A. Family members (e.g. spouses, children, parents, grandchildren, etc.)

- B. Relatives (aunts, uncles, cousins, nephews, nieces, in-laws, etc.)
 - C. Church where you serve (pastors, elders, deacons, staff, members, etc.)
 - D. Workplace where you are employed (supervisors, coworkers, etc.)
2. Fair grading - If you suspect that you cannot objectively grade fairly due to the fact that:
- A. You owe them a favor
 - B. They decide your salary or employment
 - C. Close blood ties

Please let the academic office know this potentially compromising situation so that another faculty member could help grade their papers and exams.

If you feel that this policy cannot be followed, please let the seminary know so that the course that the above-classified students are enrolled could be assigned to a different professor.

3. Graded Papers and Exams - If the administration suspects unfair grading on the part of the faculty, the professor might be asked to provide the academic office the graded papers and exams. Please keep a copy of all the papers and exams for one year.
4. Collecting Registration Forms - Unless asked, professors are not permitted to collect registration forms and tuition from the students to be submitted to the seminary on their behalf. The reason is that this might make the students feel pressured to take the professor's class.

5. Giving Money - Professors are not permitted to give money to the students to pay for the students' tuition and fees or request seminary to earmark a personal tuition donation for a particular student. However, professors may donate to the general scholarship fund. The reason being, students might feel compelled to enroll in the professor's courses even at the risk of jeopardizing their own degree program.
6. Recruiting Students for Faculty-led Church - Faculty may not recruit current students for the church or ministry they themselves serve as leaders unless through Christian service or supervised ministry programs or special permission. And the reasons are as follows:
 - A. Complaints have been submitted where students have not been properly remunerated.
 - B. Conflict between the students and professors in the church or ministry setting have discouraged students from taking necessary courses that the professors teach. In some cases, students have considered quitting seminary.
7. Intentional Recruitment of Students by Faculty – It is not permitted for a professor to recruit students for their own courses either directly or indirectly at the expense of other courses to boost enrollment for their class for any reason, be it theological or personal loyalty.

The absence of specific examples of misconduct from this section does not mean that any such misconduct is free from disciplinary action.

Lists of the books and the type of reserve desired should be given to the library staff in ample time to arrange the materials. Faculty should encourage students to use library resources.

The SRCS library collection undergoes periodic evaluation based on the following methods:

Every year, the faculty will be asked to submit subject bibliographies, which library staff will check against library holdings, making note of those titles which should be purchased. Purchases will be made as the budget allows and prioritized by upcoming course offerings. In this way each subject area will have its turn in obtaining updated resources.

FACULTY RIGHTS

Academic Freedom

Southern Reformed affirms its commitment to academic freedom for its faculty in teaching and research within an environment guided by and consistent with the Southern Reformed Statement of Faith and within the larger statement of fundamental beliefs of the Christian Evangelical Association. If a faculty member finds that they have differing opinions in regard to these statements, it is within the context of maintaining Christian unity and community that they first discuss these divergences with the administrative leadership before disseminating their opinions in the classroom. Southern Reformed expects non-theological, non-biblical and non-professional courses to be taught in accordance with an evangelical Christian worldview and consistent with the school's statement of faith.

Faculty members are free to teach, carry on research, and publish, subject to adequate performance of their academic duties as agreed upon with the school. They also have freedom in the classroom to discuss the subjects in which they have competence. Faculty members are free to express and act upon their conscientious convictions as individual citizens, although they should realize the tacit representation of the school implied in whatever they say. When they speak or act as private persons, they must avoid creating the impression that they speak or act for the school.

Faculty members must take care lest they violate each other's academic freedom by covert interference with their colleagues' work or through bypassing the orderly processes of full faculty discussion of curriculum, appointments, and other basic matters.

Faculty Grievances and Appeals

There is no grievance procedures for falsifying information concerning a person's application file, personal resume, employment records or falsifying Christian character information. Neither is there a grievance procedure for termination of employment or contract on financial and budget reasons.

For other grievances:

1. The faculty member or employee may request a meeting, in writing, with their immediate supervisor or the Chief Academic Officer.
2. If no satisfactory agreement is achieved, the aggrieved person may appeal to the President, in writing detailing the nature of the grievance and the circumstances out of which it arose.
3. The President and the supervising administrator will meet with the faculty member or employee, review the grievance in a timely manner and render their decision in writing to the aggrieved person.

4. If the faculty member or employee is not satisfied with the decision, a Review Board will be established consisting of the President, a member of the Board of Trustees and a Faculty member (of the President's choosing). The employee will be notified of their decision by certified mail. Their decision will be final.
