Making Line Graphs

It may sound easy to catch a boomerang after you've thrown it away. But if you've tried it, you know that it takes skill and practice! At the Indoor Boomerang Throwing Competition in 1998, an Englishman set a new record. Lawrence West threw and caught a boomerang 20 times in one minute.

Another boomerang catcher has kept a record of her highest number of catches in each week, for a period of ten weeks. Use the information on the table to finish the line graph for Bonnie. Put a point in the right spot on the line for each week. Connect the points from Week 1 through Week 10 with a line.
