

NATIONAL ABORIGINAL HOCKEY CHAMPIONSHIPS

MAY 4 - 10, 2026

REGINA, SK

HELP PAY SO THEY CAN PLAY

Send INDIGNEOUS TEAM ALBERTA to the 2026 National Aboriginal Hockey Championships (NAHC)

The Indigenous Sport Council of Alberta and Hockey Alberta work hard to send a U-18 Male and U-18 Female hockey team to the NAHC every year.

The costs of doing so, however, are rising at an alarming rate. We estimate it will cost over $250K to prepare and send TEAM ALBERTA to the NAHC Tournament in Regina, SK, on May 3 - 9, 2026.

Our organizations are not-for-profits with limited funding. That means players and their families have to make up the difference. For many players, the cost is just too high and the opportunity of a lifetime is lost.

Sponsorships and donations from you and your organizations will be used to directly lower the registration fees for the players.

Thank you for making participation accessible. Please read on to learn more about the NAHC and how you can help.

NAHC: WHERE HOCKEY MEETS CULTURE

NAHC has been the premier national competition for Canada's elite young First Nation, Métis and Inuit hockey players since 2022.

The NAHC is more than just hockey. From Opening Ceremonies onwards, Indigenous players, families and fans experience a week of sport that has Indigenous culture at its heart. For many players, it is their first time travelling, connecting and competing with their Indigenous peers.

But make no mistake. These players have come to play!

Female TEAM ALBERTA team were the NAHC 2023 Bronze Medalists and 2024 Silver Medalists.

And the NAHC has proven to be a pathway to professional or international level hockey. Stars such as Zach Whitecloud, Ethan Bear, Brigette Lacquette and Ted Nolan are all alumni of the NAHC.
