

Use of Personal Data

To comply with Part VI A under the Personal Data (Privacy Amendment) Ordinance 2012, we would like to bring your attention to our privacy policy as stated below.

PRIVACY POLICY

This Privacy Policy Statement (“Statement”) is made by Inflection Point Intelligence Ltd (“IPIL”) in accordance with the Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (the “Ordinance”). The Statement is intended to notify you what personal data is collected and why, how it will be used, how long we keep the data, what are our security measures and how access requests are to be addressed.

“Personal data” means any personally identifying information as more particularly defined in the Ordinance.

WHAT WE COLLECT

We collect and keep information about how to reach you (such as name, title, firm, mailing and e-mail addresses, phone and fax numbers) and information about which specific markets, functional areas, and types of information are pertinent to you. We use this to help provide you with information that’s useful to you, and to avoid bothering you with information that isn’t.

WHEN WE COLLECT IT

Submission by you: This information is collected when you fill out forms including on-line forms, or respond to one of our e-mail notices, register for our events and activities, provide us with your business card, write to us, engage with us on social media or give us information orally.

Submitting personal information is not required to use the IPIL website.

Anonymous access and Cookies: When you visit our site but do not submit any personal data on-line, we may make a record of your visit by IP Address and by cookies.

WHAT WE DO WITH IT

Data collected with one of the above methods may be used for one or more of the following purposes:

- To process your request for services provided by IPIL.
- To process billing payment.
- To promote any directly marketed services including networking events, seminars, education series and gatherings organized by IPIL and/or other business organizations.
- To respond to, handle and process any enquiries submitted by you.
- To send information about IPIL or any of its event invitations or activities.
- To provide to business organizations and/or sponsors of our programmes or other events for promotional or marketing purposes.
- To disclose to a third party to comply with any law, legal requirements, orders, directions or requests from any court, authority or government body of any jurisdiction, which may be within or outside of Hong Kong.

You can choose to “opt out” of any electronic mail by clicking the “unsubscribe” button at the bottom of the page or by writing to us at info@ipihk.com.

HOW LONG DO WE KEEP IT

We shall retain your personal data for as long as is necessary for the purposes set out above.

SECURITY MEASURES

All of this material is kept confidential and we will endeavor to protect it from unauthorized or accidental access or processing. We maintain this security by implementing appropriate physical, electronic and managerial means to secure your personal data. Our web servers are protected behind firewalls and our systems are monitored from time to time for unauthorized access.

HOW YOU CAN CONTROL YOUR INFORMATION

Should you wish to be removed from our mailing database at any time, or if you feel we have inaccurate or outdated information about you, please contact us at info@ipihk.com.

By contacting us, you can update information about yourself, opt out of outside mailings, or choose to be removed from the list altogether.

CONTACTING US

If you have any questions about this Statement, our practices or your dealings with this site, please contact us at info@ipihk.com. If you need to change your information, you can contact us at info@ipihk.com for assistance.
