PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE – by Bill Mitchell

This is the last Cattails edition for 2019. It's hard to believe another year has passed and we're already planning for the Holiday Luncheon. A few new things were tried this year: the annual Giants trip was held during the first home-stand of the season; we returned to Black Oak Casino and combined that excursion with a performance at the Sierra Repertory Theater, which we had not done for several years; and there was an outing to Old Sacramento and the California Railroad Museum. Carol Carson, Activities Coordinator, would love to hear your thoughts about what trips you want to have us plan next year and beyond.

Theoretically, the charges for RPESJC activities are calculated in order to break even. Members are priced a bit lower than actual costs, while guests are charged a little higher. Generally, more members than guests attend, so events usually require some level of subsidy from the RPESJC treasury. The two major functions of our year, the Picnic and Holiday Luncheon, are supported to a far greater degree. In order to keep the price more reasonable for our members, the charge covers only about half the actual cost of the food. In addition, there are expenditures for all the raffle prizes, decorations, venue rentals, and other items to hold those functions. These are some of the uses for your two dollars per month membership dues, along with the costs to publish and send the quarterly newsletter, maintain our office, and other necessary expenses.

During his tenure on the RPESJC Board, Dick Callistro continually sought ways to give back even more to members and, in my very last conversation with him, he urged me to do the same. It is in that spirit that our new scholarship program for children/grandchildren of RPESJC members is being named the Richard Callistro Scholarship program. We are very excited to launch this initiative! Please see the article inside this edition of Cattails.

I wish you and yours good health, happiness, and peace in 2020. ❖

ACTIVITIES REPORT – By Carol Carson

RAILROAD MUSEUM

9/18/19:

A dedicated group deployed from Hammer Ranch Center to Old Sacramento and the California Railroad Museum on September 18, 2019. While I had been afraid it might be a very hot that day, it turned out to be quite comfortable although it had drizzled that morning. Since it was a short trip, we did not play bingo. However, Jerry Herrmann had prepared some of his renowned “brain teasers” (familiar to those who attend the RPESJC luncheons) which were passed out to the riders.

Upon arrival at the museum, Group Tour Coordinator Karen Walker met us at the door with our tickets, then escorted us to a vantage point in the museum where our docent, Mr. Paul Murray, gave us a very interesting talk. He utilized a laser light to point out various geographic areas on the base relief walls around us. These walls depict the route through and over the mountains that were dug by hand tools and by explosives. Some routes were dug through pure granite to complete the portion of the transcontinental railway that opened the west. It was the moon landing of that day. The western portion relied heavily on Chinese workers and the use of explosives, as well as brute strength with hammer and chisel. In addition, Mr. Murray gave us an oversight of what we could see at the displays and railcars and answered questions from the audience. We were then free to view a movie dramatizing the building of the railway and then to roam around the museum and gift shop. Many also then left the museum to enjoy the shops and restaurants in Old Sacramento.

The Annual Red Hawk/Apple Hill trip was held on October 23, 2019 (which filled to capacity). The Holiday Luncheon which will be served buffet style, will be held on December 12, 2019 from 11 A.M. to 2 P.M. at the Waterloo Gun and Bocce Club located at 4343 N Ashley Lane, Stockton. See the flyer in this newsletter and get your reservations in early!

We will soon formulate a prospective activities list for 2020, so if you have suggestions please leave me a message at the RPESJC office (209-466-8556) or e-mail me at RPESJC@gmail.com ❖

HERE AND THERE — By Sally Tanaka

My husband and I embarked on a trip to Tuscany, Italy and surrounding areas starting on February 28 and ending on March 8, 2019. We stayed at a hotel in the spa resort town of Montecatini Terme. We had breakfast at our hotel each morning and then departed daily by bus to various locations.

We visited Florence's Academy Gallery, which houses Michelangelo's statue of David. The next stop was Lucca, the walled city, where we toured Romanesque churches and medieval streets flanked by towers. Also we visited Borgo a Mozzano to see the Devil's Bridge, a World War II museum, and went inside an actual World War II bunker. In the evening, we took an optional tour to a Tuscan Villa, which served delicious appetizers and a great meal.

On another day we toured Pisa and saw the famous Leaning Tower. Afterwards, we attended a cooking class where we had to make our own dinner with instructions from the kitchen staff. We all wore chefs' hats and had a lot of fun making our meal.

We took an optional tour to Cinque Terre, where we boarded a local train. Here we viewed the rugged coastline dotted with terraced vineyards and explored the string of fishing villages nestled between the mountains and the Mediterranean.

Upon visiting the hilltop village of San Gimignano, we viewed one of the most picturesque places in Tuscany. We later went to a cheese farm where we learned how the pecorino cheese is made and sampled cheese at a light lunch.

The last evening before our departure the following day, we attended a Tuscan feast at a beautiful restaurant atop a hill. It was a nine-course meal with savory wines. This was our farewell dinner with the rest of our fellow travelers who had come from Australia, Texas, and Southern California.

All in all, it was a wonderful trip with delicious meals!

HERE AND THERE – By Bill Mitchell

Although we prefer more active vacations, Kathryn and I went on a Danube River Cruise with Ama Waterways in April. We had been on wine cruises with them on the Rhine and Douro (Portugal) Rivers, and were offered a deal we couldn't refuse for this one. We also thought this might be a good way to ease back into traveling after a nearly 2-year hiatus for health reasons.

We began our journey by going to Budapest, Hungary for a couple of extra days before the cruise began. The city is divided into the Buda (hilly) and Pest (flat) sides by the river. We stayed in a hotel near the 19th century Chain Bridge. Across the Danube, the hilly Castle district is spectacularly lit at night. We also saw an emotionally moving sculpture called "Shoes on the Danube," which paid tribute to the many Jews who were lined up to be shot and thrown into the river during the Holocaust. We embarked on the ship in Budapest, and during the next eight days visited Bratislava, Slovakia; Vienna, Weissenkirchen, Salzburg, and Lenz, Austria; and Passau and Wilshofen, Germany. On river cruises with Ama, there are several choices daily of shore excursions, which are at no additional cost. We did two tours by bicycle with wonderful guides. There was an optional opportunity to see a Mozart and Strauss concert in Vienna, which was worth every penny.

After the cruise, we went to Prague, Czech Republic for three days. On the way, we visited Regensburg, Germany, a well-preserved medieval city. Prague was magnificent, and the historic city center was very walkable. We had a private guide for a hike up to the grand castle, and learned a great deal about the city's history and culture along the way. While in Prague, we took a day trip to the Terezin concentration camp. Although not an extermination camp, about 33,000 people died there, mostly due to the appalling conditions. It was a powerfully moving experience.

One of the fascinating aspects of this trip for me was the contrast of cultures with the Western European countries we had visited in the past (Italy, Spain, Portugal, Ireland, England, Scotland, Wales). All of the countries on this trip had been occupied by Nazi Germany during World War II. Hungary, Slovakia, and the Czech Republic were subsequently under Soviet rule for the next 40 years. The differences between these Eastern European countries and the others with regard to the role of religion in daily living, politics, economy, and other aspects of society were very noticeable.

If river cruising interests you, we highly recommend Ama Waterways. The accommodations are first-rate, the food (and free wine and beer with lunch and dinner) is sensational, the cruise directors have been awesome, and the staff aboard go out of their way to make the experience special. We also can't say enough about the company, which went above and beyond in response to a couple of adverse personal circumstances. We are taking a month-long trip in March, 2020 to Vietnam, Cambodia and Japan. An Ama cruise on the Mekong will be a part of that itinerary. I'll share our experiences on that adventure, as well. ❖

LETTER TO THE POST 82 RETIREES:

Many of the members of the RPESJC are part of a class action lawsuit which was filed on behalf of the group of retirees that retired after April 1982 and before December 31, 2000. Pursuant to an August 2001 settlement agreement, the Post 82 retirees received an average monthly supplemental retirement payment of $170.00 a month. The benefit was initially partially funded and was to be given priority in funding when the Retirement Association had excess earnings as defined in the Settlement Agreement. The benefit was cut off from April 2006 through November 2007 and again in March 2017.

John Parker of the Cutter law firm and Richard Chiurazzi represent the retirees that have lost their supplemental payment. Mr. Parker and Mr. Chiurazzi filed a lawsuit in October 2017 against the Retirement Association to recover and restore the Post 82 benefits owed to retirees. In the past two years the attorneys have fought a motion to dismiss and have spent hundreds of hours in discovery and litigation. The Retirement Association brought in the County as a co-defendant and both the County and the Retirement Association filed extensive motions for summary judgment, which were vigorously opposed by the attorneys.

The court held a hearing on June 14th and took the matter under submission for 90 days. The court issued a decision on September 11, 2019 that was entirely in favor of the Retirement Association and the County. The attorneys were shocked and disappointed by the decision and will file an appeal to the Court of Appeals in Sacramento. The attorneys will make every effort to keep the Post 82 Retirees updated on important developments. If anyone wishes to read the opinion, it is available on the SJCERA web site and on the court's website. The case number is STK-CV-UBC-2017-10696. You also can email Richard Chiurazzi at richardchiurazzi@gmail.com.

ASSISTANCE FOR ELDERLY ADULTS

There are many programs that the San Joaquin County Human Services Agency provide. The Department of Aging and Community Services supports older adults, adults with disabilities, family caregivers, and residents in long-term care facilities. The Department's services help older adults find employment; support older and disabled individuals to live as independently as possible in the community; promote healthy aging and community involvement; and assist family members in their vital care giving role. Some of the assistance provided are:

Adult Protective Services (APS) - for dependent/elderly abuse.

Caregiver Support - Family Caregiver Support Program - FCSP, Adult Day Care Programs, Grandparent Support, and Caregiver Training and Educational Videos

Home Energy Assistance Program - HEAP - The Home Energy Assistance Program (HEAP) can offer income-eligible residents of San Joaquin County a credit to their utility bill. Along with the utility credit, clients will also receive valuable information about energy conservation and practical tips on how to save energy and keep your utility bill at a manageable level.

In-Home Supportive Services - IHSS In Home Supportive Services (IHSS) is a federal, state, and locally funded program designed to provide assistance to eligible aged, blind, and disabled individuals who, without this care, would be unable to remain safely in their own homes, and would be at risk of being placed in a care facility. IHSS is considered an alternative to out-of-home care, such as nursing homes or board and care facilities. Some services that can be authorized through IHSS include: housecleaning, meal preparation, laundry, grocery shopping, personal care services, accompaniment to medical appointments, and protective supervision for the mentally impaired.

Nutrition Services - Meals on Wheels, Food For You - Commodity Program, and Congregate Dining

Ombudsman - Long Term Care - The Ombudsman Program provides a number of critical services. Ombudsman act as the eyes and ears for residents in long-term care facilities such as nursing homes or board and care homes. Ombudsman encourage access to advocacy by informing residents of what kind of care to expect, by providing a mechanism to file a complaint, and by guiding residents through the process of advocating on their own behalf. The Ombudsman Program investigates reports of abuse and neglect of seniors and dependent adults residing in long term care facilities.

Question: Hi Frank, a while ago you had an article about an investment strategy that could limit the maximum loss and still offer good growth potential. Could you post it again? It would be helpful at an uncertain time like now. Thanks!

Answer: There are many methods that are designed to reduce risks and still provide good potential for growth. Proper asset allocation has often been used, and Fixed Index Annuities are also popular. There is another strategy that is quite unique. For the sake of discussion, let's call it the "Limited-loss strategy".

Under the "limit-loss strategy", you invest your money in an account that tracks a certain stock market index such as the S&P 500. You can choose how much risk you want to take by limiting the maximum loss you would tolerate. Your account will never go down more than the "limit" that you have selected. For example, you can choose to limit your loss at 5%. In that case, if the market goes down 4%, you would lose 4%. On the other hand, if the market had a huge crash and goes down 20%, your account would only decrease by 5%, as that is your loss limit.

We all know that there is no such a thing as free lunch. The "limit loss" strategy comes with a trade-off. For every loss limit, it comes with a cap rate. The cap rate is the maximum return you can earn during the same time period. For instance, a 5% loss limit may come with a cap rate at 8%. This means that if the market goes up 7%, you would earn the entire 7%. But if the market does really well and goes up 15%, you would only make 8%.

As you can see, you get downside protection by limiting your risk but also give up some growth potential. If your main concern is to reduce risk, this strategy could be a good fit for you. In the fore-mentioned scenario, you are guaranteed not to lose more than 5% and still have the possibility to make an 8% return. Many people would be extremely happy with a possible 8% return with such a small risk.

If you would like to have more information on this topic or need help on any other financial issues, please call me at (209) 528-2801 or email me at frank.feng@cunamutual.com.

The strategy discussed here involves in investing in specific types of Index annuities. Such annuities are sold by prospectus only. FINANCIAL CENTER CREDIT UNION

- by Michael P. Duffy President/C.E.O.

DON'T BE A SCROOGE THIS HOLIDAY SEASON

The Holiday season is upon us, and for some of you the thought of Christmas shopping puts some bah humbug in your spirit. Thankfully, Financial Center Credit Union is back again to help keep your spirit (and your wallet) merry this Christmas.

1. Create a Shopping Plan. Once the grandkids start dropping hints, it's tempting to start buying gifts. But if you hit the stores without a plan, it can be easy to overspend. Set aside some time this week to make a list of everyone you need to buy for and how much you plan to spend. Don't forget to budget for holiday food and décor! Your wallet will thank you.
2. Keep a record of your purchases. How many times have you come across a Christmas gift hidden in the back of a closet after the holidays? Face it- we all overbuy during the Holiday season. To avoid this, keep a record of what you purchase, who it is for, how much it cost, and where you have it stored. This not only will help you when it comes time to wrap your presents, it will help you to stick to your budget.
3. Start looking for sales now. Retailers have broken away from the traditional Black Friday/Cyber Monday schedule and have started their holiday sales earlier in recent years. So sign up for e-mails from your favorite retailers to start getting sales alerts and coupons in your inbox.
4. Don't dismiss gift cards. At Financial Center we have gift cards you can purchase in-branch that can be used wherever Visa® is accepted. This is a great option because it gives loved ones the ability to purchase what they really want. Kids and Adults can appreciate gift cards, and they often have bigger bang for the buck thanks to after holiday sales.
5. Plan for the 2020 holiday season. Once you've wrapped up your 2019 holiday season, keep the momentum going and make your plan for 2020. Take some time to set aside money each month to accumulate a gift fund. Through your preferred bank or credit union (like Financial Center!), you can set up a secondary savings account along with an automated transfer so you can watch your funds grow throughout the year.
