Left Coast Parrothead Wine Auction September 14, 2019

The Left Coast Parrothead 2019 Wine Auction will be held at Chris and George's house on September 14th. We hope you all attend this Phun event. In the past this has been one of our biggest charity events and we hope this year will be the same. We always have a great variety of wines to auction, many with some interesting stories behind them. We also have some great silent auction gifts lined up this year. Admission is $20 per person and two bottles of wine; one bottle to donate to the auction (hopefully with a story behind it) and one bottle to drink. Jim Sumner from ASA is donating approximately 40 bottles of wine for the event. Some will be auctioned off and some will be packaged and included in the silent auction. Some great items have been donated by ASA and Parrotheads for the silent auction. You can review the list of wines donated by Jim and partial list of silent auction times are on the back pages of the newsletter for your review. If you prefer, instead of bringing a bottle to auction you can choose a bottle from the wine list, pay the listed price and then donate it for auction.

So, put the date on your calendar, save your dollars and help make this event a great charity event. Proceeds from the ASA donated items will go to ASA to provide food and other items for our troops overseas.
