Thank You for Your Support

We are deeply grateful for your continued support of the Love, Chloe Foundation and the families affected by childhood cancer. Your donations, time, and dedication are what make it possible for us to provide vital programs like Monkey In My Chair, family support grants, and to help fund research for better treatments and outcomes.

As requests for support grow each year, we've been faced with the challenge of keeping up. In the last two years alone, our family support program—including Warrior Wagons and financial assistance—has doubled in demand. This growth has, unfortunately, created a funding shortfall. As a result, we've had to make some difficult decisions to limit aspects of the program in order to sustain our core efforts.

It is our hope to secure additional funding so we can continue expanding our impact and helping more families in need. Over the past 15 years, this journey has never been easy. I often find myself filled with ideas, but limited by resources. Our wish list continues to grow, along with our determination to meet the needs of those we serve.

Programs like Monkey In My Chair and our family support services are more than just initiatives—they are lifelines for families facing the unimaginable. With your help, we believe they can reach even more children and families in the years to come.

Thank you for believing in our mission.

Sincerely, Heidi Feyerherm-Smith, Founder / President

Macie

Age 3  Solomon, KS

Diagnosed June 2024

Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia

Macie's symptoms began subtly after her second birthday. The family had been battling a cold in early May, and while Macie's persistent cough was concerning, it didn't seem alarming at first. A visit to the walk-in clinic led to a diagnosis of allergies.

But soon, Macie's condition worsened. She started experiencing random fevers, complaining of being cold even in the summer heat, and showing signs of lethargy outdoors. A week before her diagnosis, Emily, Macie's mom, noticed a swollen lymph node in Macie's neck and a distended tummy, which was initially brushed off as weight gain.

The night before her diagnosis, purple dots appeared on Macie's lower legs. Emily's concern grew, and a quick search on Google made her realize the symptoms could be much more serious than they had imagined. The next morning, Emily took Macie back to the walk-in clinic, where the doctor quickly referred them to Children's Mercy in Kansas City. It was there that Macie was diagnosed with Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia.

Since then, Macie has faced numerous challenges, battling infections and illnesses—including a near-fatal infection in her port that led to septic shock. The family now makes regular trips to Kansas City for treatment, often traveling two to four times a week. If all goes as planned, Macie will complete two more months of Frontline therapy and continue Long-Term Maintenance until her treatment ends in September, 2026.

Despite the hurdles, Macie's spirit remains unbroken. She's full of energy, sass, and determination—riding her bike, wrestling with her older brother, playing dress-up, and caring for her dolls. Her four-year-old brother, Henry, is her biggest supporter, always by her side and cheering her on.

Nothing will slow this warrior down!

Warrior Wagons

Our Warrior Wagons are packed with love and support. Each wagon is a large, canvas cart filled nearly 4 feet high with toys, activities for the childhood cancer warrior and their siblings, blankets for the entire family, Love, Chloe awareness items, restaurant gift cards, stuffed monkeys, toiletry bags, and much more. On average, each wagon is valued at $1,500.

Once the family empties the wagon, it becomes an invaluable tool for carrying their warrior or luggage in and out of the hospital.

Our wagons are often one of the first items we provide when we learn of a child's diagnosis. They never disappoint and bring joy during a family's biggest challenge.

Financial Support Grants

Our Financial Support Grants are available once annually to Kansas families with a child undergoing cancer treatment or in follow-up care. These grants typically average $1,500, though the amount may vary depending on available funding.

The grant can be used for any family need—whether it's covering utilities, maintaining a vehicle, or fulfilling a special bucket list item. Regardless of how it's used, the financial support is always deeply appreciated by the families we serve.

Requests for Family Support Increasing

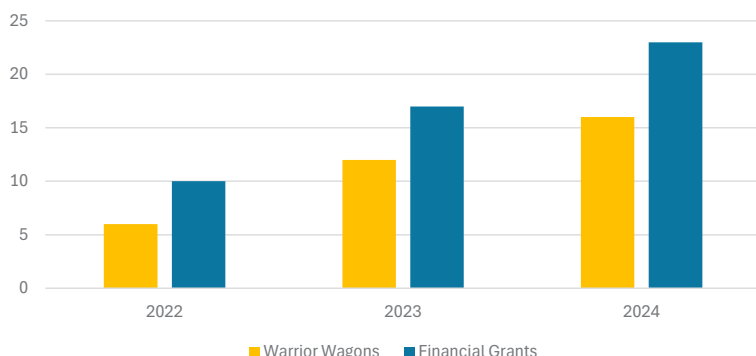

In the last three years, requests for Warrior Wagons and Financial Support Grants have more than doubled.

While it's unlikely that more children are being diagnosed, it's clear that more families are learning about our support services through hospitals and other sources. That said, we can't rule out that the increase may be due to a combination of both factors.

As the demand continues to rise, we need your support more than ever to ensure we can keep providing wagons and grants to Kansas families facing the challenges of a childhood cancer diagnosis.

Family Support Requests on the Rise

Monkey in My Chair

Monkey in My Chair was created by Love, Chloe founder, Heidi Feyerherm-Smith in 2009 to honor her daughter, Chloe, who loved school and monkeys. Combining the two to keep kids in treatment connected to their classmates was a perfect fit!

What began in her living room as an idea has now become known world-wide. On average, 800 kits are sent annually across the United States, Canada, New Zealand, Australia, Ireland, and most recently, Japan!

Monkey in My Chair is always FREE to families because of your generosity and support.

Family Day 2024

Our 2024 Family Day was held at The Alley in Salina. Family Day is held annually exclusively for our childhood cancer families.

This year, the kids and their families enjoyed bowling, laser tag, arcade games, goodie bags, and the biggest pizzas we'd ever seen!

The Silver Needles Quilt Guild surprised each of the warriors with a wonderful quilt, which topped off the day on a very special note!

Thank you to Salina Charities League for the grant that allows us to host our Family Day!

Coins for Kids

$10,207 Raised in 2024!

2024 marked the 4th year of our Coins for Kids fundraising event! Each year it continues to grow and expand to more schools in Central Kansas.

Schools who participate in Coins for Kids pass out fundraising packets ready to go to the teachers and parents, including coin jars, parent letters, reminder stickers, and a Coin for Kids bracelet for each student.

The funds raised help us to continue providing wagons, grants, and other items for Kansas childhood cancer families.

If your child's school would like to participate, contact us at: info@lovechloe.org.

Fueling the Fight Gas Cards & Distinctive License Plate

Families navigating a childhood cancer diagnosis often face not only emotional challenges but also increased travel expenses and reduced household income.

To help ease the burden of travel costs, Love, Chloe provides an annual $250 gas card to families.

These gas cards are funded through our Fueling the Fight distinctive license plate, available throughout Kansas. When you purchase or renew a Fueling the Fight license plate, a $50 donation is required in addition to your yearly tag fees. The entire donation goes to Love, Chloe and is used to purchase gas cards for families.

Personalization Available!

In January 2025, the Kansas Department of Revenue approved personalized distinctive license plates. This new feature gives families a special opportunity to honor their warrior by customizing the plate with a name!

Love, Chloe Founder Recognized as A Nexstar Remarkable Woman

2024 was an exciting year for Heidi after her husband, Kevin, nominated her for Nexstar's Remarkable Women Initiative. In addition to her work supporting childhood cancer families, Heidi is deeply involved in her church and her daughters' schools.

Remarkable Women is a nationwide initiative that honors women who have made a significant impact on public policy, social progress, and quality of life. It celebrates local women who inspire, lead, and pave the way for others. Heidi embodies each of these qualities!

As a Nexstar Remarkable Women finalist, Heidi received a $1,000 donation to Love, Chloe, and had the opportunity to spend a weekend in Hollywood with 111 other remarkable women. While she didn't win the grand prize, her daily dedication to helping childhood cancer families is a gift in itself! Heidi has been, and continues to be, a true blessing to so many.

Congratulations, Heidi!

Warrior Wagon Delivery Van Needed Will You Help?

With Warrior Wagon requests on the rise, we try to deliver more than one at a time if the wagons are in similar locations. This saves us the costs of gas and time out of the office. However, finding transportation that will fit two wagons is difficult.

When finished, the wagons are approximately 4' tall, 2' wide, and 3' long. We are unable to fit more than one wagon in an SUV.

Our remedy in the past has been to rent a cargo van which adds a significant cost to the delivery. We've also used a pickup truck when the weather allows, but we find ourselves stopping to adjust the tarp and tighten the ties several times.

A large van to deliver wagons would be a blessing. It would give us a vehicle that can fit two, possibly three, wagons at a time. In addition, the van can be used to deliver Monkey in My Chair components to volunteer locations and to help transport items to event venues.

Your monetary donation to help us obtain a van will be greatly appreciated! Our goal is to raise $30,000 and apply for grants to make up any difference that is needed. If you'd like to help us reach our goal, please scan the QR code to donate or visit:
