

Colorado Water

Where my home is, water hasn't been a big issue. However, a few miles away, things change rapidly. Whether is lack of sufficient water or poisoned water, the issue is very real for these people.

This is not just about digging few more wells. Our aquifers are running out of water. As you start pumping the last few feet, toxins get into the water that can cause cancer and other illnesses.

Bandaiding on the local level is not a long-term solution. We must have a comprehensive solution for all of Colorado. The question isn't where do we find water, but how do we get it to the people? This is a massive infrastructure issue. As with all major issues, ignoring it will not solve it.

We must come together with a comprehensive solution and begin implementation NOW!
