

Privacy Policy for Nikolay Peev's Medical Practice

Effective Date: 28/02/2024

At Nikolay Peev's Medical Practice, we are committed to protecting the privacy and confidentiality of our patients' personal information. This Privacy Policy outlines how we collect, use, disclose, and protect your personal information in accordance with applicable laws and regulations, including the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) and GDPR

Information We Collect:

Personal Information: We may collect personal information such as your name, date of birth, address, contact information, medical history, insurance information, and other relevant details necessary for providing medical care.

Health Information: We collect health information related to your medical condition, treatment, and services provided by our practice.

Financial Information: We collect payment and insurance information necessary for billing and payment processing.

How We Use Your Information:

Providing Medical Services: We use your information to provide medical care, treatment, and services tailored to your healthcare needs.

Billing and Payment: We use your information for billing purposes, including processing insurance claims and collecting payments.

Communication: We may contact you to provide appointment reminders, test results, or other important healthcare information.

Improving Services: We may use your information to evaluate and improve the quality of our services and patient care.

Disclosure of Information:

Third Parties: We may disclose your information to third-party service providers, such as insurance companies, billing companies, and healthcare professionals involved in your treatment.

Legal Requirements: We may disclose your information when required by law or in response to a valid legal request, such as a court order or subpoena.

With Your Consent: We may disclose your information with your consent or as otherwise permitted by law.

Data Security:

We implement reasonable security measures to protect your information from unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, or destruction.

Access Controls: We restrict access to your information to authorized personnel who have a legitimate need to access it for providing medical care or conducting practice operations.

Your Rights:

Access: You have the right to access and request a copy of your medical records and personal information.

Amendment: You have the right to request amendments to your medical records if you believe the information is inaccurate or incomplete.

Privacy Complaints: If you believe your privacy rights have been violated, you have the right to file a complaint with our practice or with the appropriate regulatory authority.

Updates to Privacy Policy:

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time to reflect changes in our practices or legal requirements. We will notify you of any material changes to this policy.
