

Frequently Asked Questions

1. What is the Freedom with Focus Foundation?

The purpose of the foundation is to provide a forum to raise issues of significant public importance but do not receive the attention in the media that these issues deserve

2. What are the issues the Freedom with Focus deal with?

Please scroll through the web page to find current or past projects.

3. Who is involved with the Freedom with Focus Foundation?

The founder is Steven Fletcher. He is a former Member of Parliament, federal cabinet minister, and Member of Manitoba Legislative Assembly. For more information visit his website www.stevenfletcher.com

4. Does the foundation accept donations?

No. The foundation is a legal entity registered with the Canadian Revenue Agency as a private-not-for-profit. No money or any other benefit is given or exchange other than the joy of public policy. The foundation provides a legal platform for individuals with passion and knowledge about specific issues the opportunity to share their public policy opinions and solutions.

The foundation is based on the currency of ideas and strengthening our democracy.

5. Where does the name come from?

The name uses alliteration using words that highlight the fact that a fundamental pillar of our society is our freedom to exchange ideas. There needs to be focus when discussing specific issues and it is a body for the public good hence the foundation. It also helps that the founder surname is consistent with the letter F!