

Wisconsin Cooperative Trapper Education Program (WCTEP) classes for 2019

Important notes: The official list of classes can be found on GOWILD here:

<https://gowild.wi.gov/customers/safetyedclass>

Once classes fill up, they will be removed from searches on GOWILD but will remain posted here. Always use the class postings on GOWILD to enroll, many classes will allow you to enroll online while some will require you to contact the lead instructor. Contact information is provided on GOWILD.

While this list will be updated regularly, classes will appear on GOWILD before being posted here.

All classes must be posted for at least 4 weeks, but some may not be posted for much longer than that. New classes will be added to GOWILD throughout the year so check back often.

Traditional Hands-On Classes

Our most popular classes are traditional hands-on classes. You can learn more about Wisconsin trapper education by following this link: <https://dnr.wi.gov/education/outdoorskills/traped.html>

The following list may not be complete, check GOWILD for new classes that have been recently added.

To enroll in a class or for more information, search course type "Trapper Ed" on GOWILD:

Field Test-Outs – For online/correspondence course graduates ONLY

If a traditional hands-on class doesn't fit into your schedule, the online or correspondence trapper education course is a great plan B. To learn more or to get started check:

<https://dnr.wi.gov/education/trappereducation.html>

You must pass all coursework for either the web based online course, or the mail based correspondence course prior to registering for a field-test out. Students MUST pass a field test-out to gain trapper education certification if taking the online/correspondence course. Students taking a traditional hands-on course DO NOT need to take a field test-out.

To enroll in a class or for more information, search course type "Trapper Ed Test-Out" on GOWILD:

<https://gowild.wi.gov/customers/safetyedclass>
