

Todd Lossone has worn many hats during his 25 years in the optical industry. As an optician he has worked in multiple settings including high end freestanding optical, MDs, ODs, and Low Vision. With the encouragement of his master optician mentor, he applied to and was hired by Rodenstock and has spent the last 18 years gaining experience representing different manufacturers. Todd is celebrating his 10th year with Essilor where he currently covers the western region of the US as a Growth Consultant and Managed Vision Care Specialist.
