Book of the Month

Craft of the Wild Witch

wo very special, yet very different days, (akin to polar opposites) are celebrated in the month of October; Thanksgiving, a day of Gratitude, Feast & Family Gatherings, followed by Halloween, or Samhain, the holiday of Celtic pagan origins which marked the end of summer and the onset of winter. An important time in the calendar to honour and give respect to the dead. It is said that on this day, a veil that separates the spirit world from the earth plane is lifted, making communications easier.

In honour of this magical time, a selection of Tarot Cards, Books, and Bags are Showcased in this month's newsletter.

Lapis Lazuli

ATTRIBUTES Lapis Lazuli opens the third eye and balances the throat chakra. It stimulates enlightenment and enhances dream work and psychic abilities, facilitating spiritual journeying and stimulating personal and spiritual power. This stone quickly releases stress, bringing deep peace. It possesses serenity and is the key to spiritual attainment.

Lapis Lazuli is a protective stone that contacts spirit guardians. This stone recognizes psychic attack, blocks it, and returns the energy to its source. It teaches the power of the spoken word, and can reverse curses or dis-ease caused by not speaking out in the past.

This stone harmonizes the physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual levels, imbalances between these levels can result in depression, dis-ease, and lack of purpose. In balance, the harmony brings deep inner self-knowledge.

Lapis Lazuli encourages taking charge of life. It reveals inner truth, encourages self-awareness, and allows self-expression without holding back or compromising. If repressed anger is causing difficulties in the throat or in communication, Lapis Lazuli releases these. This stone brings the enduring qualities of honesty, compassion, and uprightness to the personality.

Lapis Lazuli is a powerful thought amplifier. It stimulates the higher faculties of the mind, bringing objectivity and clarity. It encourages creativity through attunement to the source. Lapis Lazuli helps you to confront the truth, wherever you find it, and to accept what it teaches. It aids in expressing your own opinions and harmonizes conflict. It teaches the value of active listening.

Lapis Lazuli bonds relationships in love and friendship and aids expressing feelings and emotions. It dissolves martyrdom, cruelty, and suffering. As a gem essence, it dissolves emotional bondage.

HEALING Lapis Lazuli alleviates pain, especially that of migraine headaches. It overcomes depression, benefits the respiratory and nervous systems and throat, larynx, and thyroid, cleanses organ, bone marrow, thymus, and the immune system. Lapis Lazuli overcomes hearing loss, purifies blood, and boosts the immune system. It alleviates insomnia and vertigo, and lowers blood pressure.

POSITION Wear or place at the throat or third eye. Lapis Lazuli should be positioned above the diaphragm, anywhere between the sternum and the top of the head.

Book of the Month

us with poetry in our souls. Some of us may feel like we are revisiting a lost part of ourselves, fulfilling an incessant longing within us. Or we may feel like we've found a new way to express who we feel ourselves to be, inherently, while honouring our native land and its spirits. However wild witchcraft affects us as individuals, its core message is always the same; it represents all that is steadfast and true in a modern world that can often seem chaotic and cruel if we have no anchor, no real sense of purpose. The essential message of wild witchcraft is found under cinnamon leaves, where the bright scales of hidden creatures shine, found in the fronds of glistening weeds swaying in brackish depths, in the swell . . .

Excerpt from Preface

There is lyricism and mystery, simple wisdom and profound realization, great comfort and life-changing power in the wild witchery I will be discussing in this book. It is witchcraft for those of us who yearn to express our own inherent spirituality in a joyous, meaningful manner, not within temples or churches but out in the landscape and within the deepest fathomless places in our own souls . . . Places that echo the furthest reaches of the starry-veiled cosmos. It is a way to understand our own wild heart, our soul nature. I will explain how our soul nature finds a perfect elemental expression on wind-buffed granite outcrops and in deep still green water alike. The understanding of our true soul nature will come as unexpectedly as the warmth to be found in mid-winter sunlight, as tenacious as the twisted tree that blooms and grows despite its exposed position, as moving and awe-inspiring as the sound of a single swan's wing-beats that are heard as it makes its way home alone across the moors. It is a magical path for those of Greet an old friend, one who seems silent save for the whispers of her silvered leaves, and hear the subtle messages present in the touch of your hand on her rough bark. . . . Leave an offering of milk and honey for the sweet-toothed spirit who guards a favourite hill. . . . See a special stone in a vision, know you will find it on the beach today. . . . Such is the way of the wildwitch.

A POETIC GUIDEBOOK TO THE GREEN-SPIRITED PATH

Wild witchcraft is a magical, free-spirited philosophy that embraces nature. It resonates with those who yearn to express their inherent spirituality in a joyous, meaningful manner; who sense their wild heart and soul nature; who know there is beauty, magic, and meaning in the world if only we want to find it. It is a magical path for those with poetry in their souls.

Evocative and compelling, Craft of the Wild Witch reveals how to practice a form of witchcraft that is both wild and free. Within these pages you will discover the wildwitch's way of seeing and knowing, how to discern one's suitability for the wildwitch's path, and the fundamental themes of green spirituality. Also covered in this guidebook:

rituals • chants • seasonal prayers
tree meditations • spellweaving • other-life memories trancework • the Fey & Otherworld companions pathworking • herb helpers • sacred intent & safe practice
