New Artist

I am really pleased to be able to offer work by the renowned and creative sculptor, Jack Eagan. Jack draws his inspiration from the everyday, like a small piece of driftwood that has been shaped and polished by the grinding motion of the sea, bleached of colour by exposure to the corrosive salt and baking sun. He will look to the patterns and rhythms in nature, seed pods, shells, bones, trees, ferns and search out colour formations within the strata of the earth.

Casting in bronze, each work is totally bespoke to individual client needs and desires. I will work with you to determine the colour, patina, size, base and finish you require, totally at your own discretion and made to order - pieces can also be scaled up and scaled down to suit your requirements. This is a rare opportunity to create something completely unique to you - and a new and innovative approach to producing & buying sculpture!

Art In Focus

Dion Salvador Lloyd is a contemporary British painter, known predominantly for his landscapes. He is drawn to the history of natural things, their stories and mysteries. He is driven by this connection with the world around him, using painting as a way of telling us who he is, expressing those elusive things that can't be put into words. He is a prolific and self-taught painter with peaks of inspiration and bursts of creativity that gives his work its energy and dynamism.

*'Be A Rainbow in Someone's Cloud' 50cm x 50cm

Kit John's paintings explore the wild and untamed nature of the Cornish landscape. Experimentation and expression are key aspects of his work, creating unpredictable, unique and atmospheric pieces. Authentic vintage maps and other found objects are often used as the base for his art, creating a rare unique canvas for each painting and adding further to a sense of place within the work.
