BAKERSFIELD ART ASSOCIATION

January 2026

JANUARY GROUP SHOW: ANIMALS

The Bakersfield Art Center has a special group show for the month of January. It is called "Animals." Meet the Artist at a reception on First Friday, January 2nd from 6 to 8 pm. The Bakersfield Art Center is located at 1607 19th St., Bakersfield

Once upon a time in everyone's life they interacted with many kinds of animals. It may be one you dreamed of having, one your friends had or even one you have had or currently have. It may be one that you secretly want to have but have not been able to satisfy your dream. Animals have been in movies, plays, circuses and even worked with the military as well as the police forces. They have been everywhere, stories, famous art works and not so famous art works. Now is their time to shine.

The Bakersfield Art Association is hosting the featured wall with the topic of "Animals". Artists within the Art Association as well as Artists from the surrounding area are invited to submit paintings, drawings, sculptures of animals they have seen, visited, watched on TV or at the Movies. This show will run from January 1st through January 30th. The Art Association is hoping for a great turnout of Animal Art.

BAA PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Happy New Year Everyone! I'm wishing that 2026 will be full of peace, prosperity, and painting. Our Christmas Party was well attended, and it seems like everyone had a good time. We had a silly/fun time with the gift exchange. Lots of yummy goodies to sample. The morning culminated with the end of the silent auction for the student scholarship. Some very nice baskets were handed out. Special thanks to Charlotte White for coordinating the scholarship basket auction.

Roline Loung and Edwina Davis were the Featured Artists in December. That was a wall full of beautiful art! It is staggering to think of all the hours these women spent to create these paintings! January will feature Animals from multiple artists. That should be a sight to see. Contact Jim Bates if you would like to hang your work on the featured wall.

At our Saturday, January 10th meeting I will be presenting a short look at my process for painting dogs in a rainbow of colors. Hoping to pique your interest for the January 17th "Colorful Canines" workshop. See page 3 for more info.

The High School exhibit for the month of January will be Vista High School student artists. See page 7 for more information.

We still have openings for some of the satellite shows in 2026. If you are interested in that, see Casey Dee for details and availability.

I hope everyone is making time in their busy schedules to spend some making art. Let your mind wander and your spirit fly high. No telling how much you can accomplish when you are just having fun! No more fog!

Merry Christmas!

Marilyn J. Smith, President 2025-26

DAGNY'S FEATURED ARTIST LISA FAULKENBERRY

Local artist Lisa Faulkenberry presents her soulful, expressive paintings at Dagny's Coffee Shop, located at 1600 20th Street in downtown Bakersfield, for a special solo exhibition on view continuing through January. Her work blends realism, abstraction, and a touch of surreal imagery, brought to life through color, rich textures, intuitive brushwork, and emotional depth—inviting viewers into moments of reflection, imagination, and connection.

Originally from New York, Lisa has called Bakersfield home for 38 years. Living on a small horse ranch in the foothills, she draws daily inspiration from the beauty of nature and the quiet companionship of animals. Her artwork has been internationally recognized and published in Arts To Hearts Magazine, and she currently serves as Vice President of the Bakersfield Art Association, supporting and promoting the local arts community.

Learn more about Lisa at her website: lisafaulkenberryart.com. You can view more of Lisa's artwork at the Bakersfield Art Center, 1607 19th Street, Bakersfield, CA 93301
