PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

(by Toni Lott)

This is being written before Thanksgiving and we were just notified that Kern County is back in the purple tier since our numbers are high again. This Covid-19 is making managing the Art Center difficult.

I have personally been tested twice and the results are negative, however you just can't take chances with our visitors and students. Wear a mask when you visit the Art Center. Use the hand sanitizer when you enter so you can check out the prints and cards, and socially distance. We can probably stay open.

I want to say how thankful the board and I are for the artists who staff the Art Center each day. Cooperation and good will abounds and it is a pleasure to come by and browse through the AC.

We will have a Christmas Table for small items that the artists produce. Be sure to shop with us and support the artists and the BAA. We are planning to stay open Monday thru Saturday 10-4.

FEATURED ARTIST Continued

Laura Lee Best—Laura Lee is one of Bakersfield's upcoming local Artists. She began the year with her first solo art show titled, "Expressions," featuring over a dozen watercolor pencil portraits. Throughout the year she has exhibited her work in the BAA's gallery, and KRVA's Virtual Art Show where she received the People's Choice Award in October.

Like many others Laura was driven with a greater desire to express herself through her artwork when the mandatory closures began early this year. She began feeling a greater sense of community and was inspired to create a new series of paintings that would give tribute to her hometown and include several of Bakersfield's treasured locally owned businesses and historic landmarks.

Laura has already received "rave reviews" for her latest series on social media platforms as recognized by Bakersfield's local 23abc news, and has drawn the attention of several local Art Collectors as well as business owners who are excited to invest in her new series of works. As the BAA's current Featured Artist, Laura's work will be on display through the end of December. More of her work can be viewed on her social media pages, @LauraLeeArtStudio. For inquiries please contact her through her website www.LauraLeeStudio.com.

Phyllis Oliver—In Washington State, she specialized in teaching artistically gifted students, taught volunteers how to teach art and art history in the seven grade schools in Poulsbo Washington, and was on Adjunct Faculty at Seattle Pacific University, Seattle, Washington. She is in collections in Canada, Kuwait, Greece, Australia, and several more European countries as well as in the US.

She considers "visual art" to be a cross cultural language, as line, color, and form appeal directly to the senses and provide a way to experience a moment in Time.

Oliver, a Signature member of the Northwest Watercolor Society and an elected member of Women Painters of Washington will be showing with Laura Best at the Bakersfield Art Association for the month of December. She has been housebound, as have many, due to COVID-19, and painting has been her refuge. Fall scenes from the east side are featured in the show. As she painted, yellow became the focus of several paintings. As yellow is the color closest to white, it generates feelings of warmth, sunshine, and hope. Thinking about the symbolism that was emerging as she painted. It became clear that although fall is a season of dying back in preparation for hibernation, the guarantee of spring is found in yellow. She prays that the all of us will make it through this period of hibernation to a glorious COVID-19 future.

DAGNY'S FEATURED ARTIST

Bakersfield based oil painter, Rosalio has been painting in oils for more than 10 years and experimenting with different kinds of mediums, but always going back to oil paint. Rosalio Martinez has shows his artwork in Los Angeles and lately here in Bakersfield.

At the age of 12, Rosalio met his first art instructor, since then he fell in love with the shapes and value tones when working with pencil. In high school he took some drawing classes, but never worked with oil colors.

In his early 20s Rosalio moved from México to Los Angeles, California. In 2008 he took art classes with Michael Breanna at Torrance adult school learning some of the techniques of the great four masters.

Rosalio participates in Paramount art show, Torrance Art Guild exhibition show, also in MCAU Gallery in Los Angeles
