February Featured Art

"Flowers & Things" a group art exhibit will be the featured art at the BAA Art Center through February. The Opening Reception with refreshments will be First Friday, February 7 from 6 to 8 pm.

2 and 3 dimensional art by Toni Lott, Vicki Meadows, Mi Okh, Dian Olmstead, Berta Blackburn, Donna Bianco., Martin Varga, Micki Schulz and Laura Mizrahi.

Painting has been a long time passion for ToniLott, starting with paint by numbers at 12 to acrylics after retiring. Still life and flowers are my favorite subject.

Dian Olmstead is known as the gourd artist. Her gourds are one way to make gourds into art

Micki Schulz is a new artist who started her "Creative Exploration" later in life when she was in her 60's. Watercolor is her favorite art medium, but she loves trying & experimenting with many different styles and techniques.

A Bakersfield native, Laura Mizrahi has been creating images with watercolor for over thirty years. Her subjects range from ranch life to canines to flowers.

Vicki Meadows was but self taught and still learning. She started painting on canvas two years ago. A lot to still learn but enjoying the process Give a gift that doesn't wilt!

Dagny's February Featured Artist

Dagny's BAA Art Gallery 1600 20th Street. "iSee", photography by Todd Thorpe will be featured at the Dagny's BAA Gallery through February. See page 3.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

(by Iva Cross Fendrick)

The gallery was ready for the January reception with nine artist works depicting Norma Eaton's theme, The Color of Winter. This is the group show that Norma offered to members. If you missed entering this one, she has another group show scheduled for July. The surprise of the evening was to discover that Arts Council had canceled downtown's First Friday's Art Walk. Some had seen it on Facebook, but some times false information is posted there. BAA still had a good gathering of friends, family, and visitors. Visitors did ask, "Where are the street artists?" We need to thank Debbie Brackley for clearing out the Christmas tree and the holiday items in time for that evening reception. And thanks to Vickie's food team, who did a great job keeping the reception table full of nibbles and beverages. Dagny's Featured Artist, new member Laura Best had a beautiful display of her work. I hope you had a chance to enjoy the paintings.

During the year when shopping for yourself, at that time, you might think of something that the gallery often needs, like paper items, cleaning supplies, soda, etc., we would be happy to accept your generosity. You could contact Anne Hutton, who is our supply buyer, and she could advise you of items we always need. John and Cheri Sperl have often done such giving, and we thank them and others who have helped BAA in many ways that is much appreciated.

In March, we will be putting together a nominating committee, looking for new officers for the next fiscal year. It may seem a little early to think of this, but it will be here before we know it. Voting will be in May at that General Meeting, along with your chance to vote for the 2021 calendar in June. I know, I know, way too early to plan for that. We do need to be painting and planning

Perhaps you will find time to drop by the gallery and enjoy the art.

DAGNY'S FEBRUARY ARTIST

Photographer Michael Todd Thorpe has been carrying a camera of some sort ever since he was a child, starting with a Kodak Brownie. In high school he learned to shoot and edit video, which would later lead to a career in television. In college he studied photography, with a focus on composition, developing and printing.

In 2013,

Thorpe left a 20+ year job as an award-winning writer/videographer/editor/producer in broadcast television to teach photography at Valley Oaks Charter High School. He still shoots film from time to time with his collection of classic 35mm cameras, not to mention his daily digital carry, a Canon EOS 70D

DSLR.

Thorpe calls this show, "iSee." All of the exhibited photos were taken with an iPhone. About this show, he says, "I wanted to show two things: first, we often see things in our daily lives and we don't realize we are seeing art around us. Second, you don't have to have a fancy camera to make a good photograph."

Thorpe says, "In the end, it's not about the tools you use, it's how you use those tools to fulfill
