

Blindness

Razor-blades that cut through time
It is not enough how hard I try
You don't know what I'd give
To see one more sunset by your side
It's you who makes me feel alive
A golden hourglass has been broken
The sand is running one last time
It is inevitable, so we must accept
The end came and time will forget
The one that heals all scars ...
Become the one who creates worse ones
A piece of me belongs to you forever
It's unstoppable, the march comes closer
The noises are increasing every second
I am scared of what will happen

No one chases love
No one decides the end
Inside a despair
I wish you happiness forever
Maybe one day we'll meet
Representative of loneliness
Waves of the sea will break our reflections

Despair

It doesn't matter if I squeeze the soil
Even if I break clocks it doesn't matter
My own thoughts are crushing me
Sleep became torment to this city
An unbearable anger against the uncontrollable
A freezing sadness that comes with acceptance
Dark truth, I suffer by the prowling reminiscence
Whatever's in me, I want to finish this Time doesn't stop, no matter what I do
It flows like the rivers of tears I wept after you
Nothing I do makes any difference to what's happening
The upcoming ending will take you as far as the stars
Only hope left is that in another world our hands may touch
There is not even a chance for me to try
I'll be haunted by my dreams every night when I'm lost
Suffocate between every wall that reminds
What will happen when your perfume runs out
Will time be enough to take love out of my mind
Is it better to kill my hope from the start
Thunderstorms are breaking in my heart

The Aching Time

Old aching time,
How come you never stop
Please don't take all I've got
Let me keep my memories aside
Grace me with the beauty of your passing
But don't run too fast, I'll slide
Let me have time to feel
Love, hatred or whatever is inside
Old aching time,
An unrewindable dance
Ballrooms filled in your elegance
Give me back my life

Long Love

Time moves too slow for the ones who wait,
Be my angel of death that I have no escape
This relentless exile from you is tiring my soul
Heartbeats I skip when I feel you close.

Time moves too fast for the ones who grieve,
Mourn the spring when one by one falls each leaf
Let rain force us indoors, so the flowers can spring
Every autumn is what every summer bring.

For those who love, time eternally exist.

Scream

Blood of sea, when will I see
Sins I commit, evil as can be
These temptations that get into me
Your eyes are my search of beauty
A love I hid under my grave
Shut my mouth with the seal of fate
Unconscious insecurities, you remove all
One kiss and my devils are gone
A magical spell I fell under
In dizziness I blunder
Is this what love is?
Will all my life I wonder?
Break the silenced chains
How long can we keep it secret?
I want to shout, I need to scream it
I see an end but I'm scared to reach it
With myself I am contradicting
My mind, I am slowly losing

Star

Looked at the sky
And picked a star
Look similar to all
But shines different in my heart,
So far to reach
So close to touch
I fell in love
With the beauty of the night,
Every day I wait
For the sun to set
Will you be there?
Everytime I check
A star so elegant
She shines the brightest
Will time be enough
To reach your foreverness?

Meant to be

I was born to be alone
Left to live in the shadows
Hatred belongs to my eyes
Misery sucks out my soul
I cannot keep a good mind
Constant death inside my own mind
Doubting reality all the time
And then I lose it all
Doesn't matter what I do
Doesn't matter if I put on a smile
You're right, I'm different
But I'm not the lovable type
A grave that needs to carry itself
A funeral no one attends
When will I lose my will
To fight my reckless wreck
You chose pain, to kiss the unholy
I bring chaos, destroy the orderly
I need your hugs to warm up
Why do you have to be this far apart
I feel scared by how evil people are
Why can't you be by my side
To calm the fire in my head, I need you
I don't worry when I'm with you
I know we can't do anything for now
So I don't want to hurt you
But it scares me, the promises
I know you love me but...
I am scared you'll leave me too.

Unable

I can't be enough, divided and isolated by destiny
Can't touch my lovers hand when she needs me
An endless struggle to mix dreams into reality
Wondering if the unknown future holds any pity
Will something see the pain I have eventually
Why do I suffer from love, shouldn't it be filled with beauty
Hug me once and never leave me, we were meant to be Roads I'd walk, seas I'd swim; tell me you need me
Close your eyes and imagine being next to me
The best we can do when cruel nature punches heavily
Hold on to the fire in your chest, revenge will be plenty
Not against anyone but the world entirely
Love me, keep in mind you fill my dreams
Don't force, let the fate unfold
Don't ever worry, eventually it'll be solved
Just believe ...

... Believe in "We".

Autumn

I miss you, come next to me
Kiss me to calm down the winds
All the leaves are soaring violently
Maybe it's happening naturally
Even the longest seasons come to an end
Every night is followed by a morning
Eventually this hardship is going to end too
Then awaits a beauty that heavens envy
We coexist, maybe differently
Somehow connected unseparably
Magic spells under autumn trees
To the point I couldn't break the oath
I killed myself many times, didn't die at all
Came to realize, it's because you are my soul
I couldn't hold myself away from love
Beauty is a piece of vision only
Love me, and never let go of me
I can not imagine a world without you
Another spring will never bloom
Maybe for us it will always be rainy and windy
Just take an umbrella and let's watch it divinely

Sleep

I don't want to sleep
What if time passes too quick
Let me count every second
That way I won't fall asleep
I'm in love with infinity
Break the clocks so we lose track of time
I wish I could save my minutes
So I can spend them on my love
Hug me one more time
This time don't ever leave
Hold me as close as possible
Let our skins merge together
Kiss me, kiss me forever
Let our lips meet each other
Touch me, touch me with your care
Look at me and keep that stare
Wake me up the way you did every day
You're the most precious hand I've held
I don't want to go back

Vapor

The voices are back again
Screaming as loud as they can
A hatred so strong against fate
Wondering why is there endless wait
Let me hold the hands of my lover
Stop constantly pushing her further
Time, you reckless monster
Am I bound to be a disaster
Her image is vanishing
I'm slowly forgetting
An agonious murder
All evidences dissappear
I can not hold my emotions
Miserable silent avalanches
I don't want to reflect my pain
But my heart bleeds in my hand
Closed my eyes in a dark room
Hoping I lose sense of time
Waiting for a flower to bloom
When will my tears end
Does my eyes shed
Is there anything I can control
Or will acceptance be the end of our soul

Another Useless Poem

A bouquet of flowers I've laid on the soil
Didn't mourn hoping one day we'll unite
Will the winds bring the fragrance of your hair?
Why do I have to wait until the end of time
Nightmares I see, obsessed with you inside
Scariest than the cold death knocking on my Infinite "What if's" that merely subside
My hands are shaking, come calm them down
I am scared if we were never meant
What if I am running after a dream I can't
I need you to tell me that it'll be beautiful
Yet you are far away from my hands
Just like a car crash we met
Not expected and sudden at best
Tell me how can I forget
Your eyes with love expressed
Bring me back to the night we met
No expectations at anyone's hand
Unaware of a future that's coming
Just like now but without being stressed
What if I am never enough
What if we will never meet
What if you leave before everything
What if everything isn't real?

Prize

Love, the promised prize
A little us, A little compromise
Unexpected yet a beautiful surprise
That's the image on a fools mind
Suffer, destined to be my companion
I know I don't overthink as much as told
They treat me like I am the problem
Until there is a truth in what has yet to unfold
It's a big cycle with the past again repeating
I've seen this movie, again and again same things happening
I fell for the same trap twice
Yet I am a greed mouse
I lose control because I fall in love too much
I am bound to be hurt, a sensitive soul
This enchanting drug called love
Romanticism sharper than a knife
It's too risky to juggle with life
Yet I am a fool, who again will trust

