This ca. 1895 Cole & Woodberry organ was last installed at Clark Methodist Church in Portland, ME. All that remains of this organ is the pipework which stands as a testament to the fine craftsmanship for which the Cole & Woodberry firm was known. This organ has a strong, yet colorful, sound that excels at supporting singing. Constructing new casework and mechanical action will allow this organ greater flexibility to fit the architecture of any appropriately sized room. This organ would also be a great candidate for expansion.
