

MICHAEL DANIELS | 229 VEGAN

229 Vegan was created to address the lack of healthy food options in local food desert communities by offering fresh, non-processed, plant-based meals. By partnering with local producers and providing training on healthy meal preparation, the business aims to improve community health and expand access to nutritious food through multiple locations in southwest Georgia.

ADRIENNE DINELLA | HEALTHY EATING GRAB N GO

I dream of opening a healthy grab-and-go food establishment in downtown Albany that offers affordable, fresh meals while supporting local farmers and craftsmen through a cooperative, community-focused model. Rather than competing with existing restaurants, I aim to collaborate with them and revive a cooperative spirit to create jobs and a welcoming space for younger generations.

TIFFANY SMITH | NEXTSHIFT STEM KITS

NextShift STEM Kits provides hands-on career connected STEM kits for school age students. This business was born from the work of my nonprofit Balancing The Equation, which has served over 200 students across SOWEGA. With NextShift, we're expanding that impact by putting STEM into the hands of young innovators- at home, in classrooms, and in afterschool programs.
