

The Love Story

The Story of Micaela and Paul
(slightly embellished)

“When I first met with Micaela and Paul, they told me...”
“We want our first dance to be unforgettable. We want to feel like we’re dancing on a cloud.”

Now, before we even get to the dance floor, I want you to look closely at the expressions on their faces and on the faces of everyone around them.

Because the story I’m about to tell you?
It’s the beginning of that magic.

Paul had a huge crush on Micaela...
For two years.

But he couldn't say a word because they had a professional relationship.

You see... Micaela is a pediatrician.
And Paul?

Well...

(pause for effect—guests are hanging on the punchline)

He was her Pool Boy!”

It had just rained dust in typical Arizona fashion, and her pool was a mess.

So Micaela called Paul to schedule a clean-up.

Now, Paul was swamped, fully booked for weeks.

But... he also had a huge crush on her.

So naturally, he did what any smitten man would do in that situation

He lied.

"I'm not doing anything right now. I could be there in 10 minutes."

Micaela said,
"Great! See you in 10."

And sure enough, Paul raced over, cleaned her pool, gathered his gear...

But just as he was about to leave, Micaela stepped out of the back door and called across the yard:

"Hey Paul, how am I lookin'?"

Now... she meant her pool.

But Paul? He had been waiting two years for a moment like this.

So he dropped everything and beelined it across the yard.

Heart pounding. Hands sweating. Breath shortening.

He wasn't sure what he was going to say until, standing right in front of her, he looked her in the eyes and said:

"Micaela... you are the most beautiful woman I have ever seen in my life.

Oh, and your pool? It looks good too."

Micaela could've easily said, "Thank you... But no, thank you."

But she didn't.

Instead, they started talking. And out of nowhere, Micaela caught Paul completely off guard when she said:

"Well, you know, Paul... I've been looking for an addition to my family."

Paul nearly passed out. Was she talking about him?

But then, with a perfectly timed grin, she dropped the hammer:

"Do you know where I could find... a dog?"

What Micaela didn't know was that Paul had a passion far beyond cleaning pools.

He rescued stray dogs.

He lit up as he described a black lab he'd recently taken in.

And as he spoke, Micaela started fidgeting, then smiled and said:

"That's exactly the kind of dog I've been looking for... could you bring it over?"

Paul brought the dog over. They chatted. And within 60 seconds, less than a minute, Micaela had fallen head over heels in love...

(with the dog, of course!)

But that's also when she realized...

Paul wasn't just her pool boy anymore.

He was her Pool MAN.

And from that moment on,
they really hit it off.

Just before Paul left that day, he gave Micaela a quick hug from the side... and in that moment, everything changed.

She turned toward him and thought,
*“Wow. Not only is he good-looking, but he also has a heart of gold.
And with his arm around me, I don’t want him to let go, EVER!”*

Now, here she sits, surrounded by family, love, and the man who made her feel that way then...
And still does today.

With tears in her eyes, Micaela isn't just remembering that moment.
She's feeling it all over again.

Please join me as we welcome them to the dance floor for their first dance as husband and wife... Micaela and Paul!

And just like that... magic filled the room.
Surrounded by the people they love,
Dancing on a cloud as their favorite song played.

Micaela and Paul created a moment no one will forget.
The room was still. The lighting was perfect. And for a few beautiful minutes, time stood still.
